256 Countians Donate $32,746 To Gettysburg College Campaign Fund

The Gettysburg College Development Fund campaign, being conducted in Adams County, meshed into driving speed at the third report meeting, held Friday evening at the college, when it was announced that members of various teams soliciting in Gettysburg have turned in 181 subscriptions totaling $21,837 while county teams have accounted for 37 subscriptions totaling $5,389.

In addition, 38 subscriptions received by mail from county contributors account for an additional $5,420, bringing the totals to 256 individual contributions amounting to $32,746.

College officials were enthusiastic over the early results of the campaign in Adams County, with the drive only ten days old, and with only one-fourth of the solicitations completed. Individual contributions in Gettysburg average $120; those in the county $148, and those received by mail $143, for an overall average of $128 per individual. The subscriptions are payable over a 30-month period.

"Proud Of Results"
Atty. Richard A. Brown, general chairman of the county campaign, told the campaign workers they "have every reason to be proud of the results achieved so far."

Quoting from the invocation of the Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, of the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, who is serving as a team captain in the campaign, Brown said: "Let us not tire in this endeavor."

"The splendid results achieved so far can only stimulate us to make the call backs and the follow-ups and to see those who have not yet been called upon."

"Adams County has a big stake in Gettysburg College. The results achieved in the local area will set the pace for the areas in which campaigns will be conducted later. The average subscription from individuals in most heartening and clearly reflects, not only the local interest in the college, but the high appreciation that is felt for the close relationship of the college with the county community and vice versa."

26 Special Gifts
Apart from the individual subscriptions, it was announced that 26 special gifts aggregating $309,900 have been received to the credit to Adams County. This brings the total to date to $342,646.00.

COUNTY HOME PROJECT WILL MOVE AHEAD

The Adams County commissioners soon will sell land in which the National Park has expressed no interest but will delay for the present at least the disposal of land which the Park Service hopes to acquire. E. Donald Scott, president of the commissioners, said Friday.

His complete statement follows: "The Adams County Board of Commissioners intends to proceed with its plans to erect a new County Home. Recent press releases from Washington indicating that no Federal funds will be available for the purchase of county farm land will have no bearing on our determination to proceed forthwith with this much-needed project.

"The commissioners have had recent conferences with officials of the Gettysburg National Park and with the Property sub-committee of the Adams County Home Advisory committee. No action will be taken with regard to the sale of land in which the park system is interested until we have had an opportunity to examine the exact wording of the congressional bill appropriating funds for the purchase of additional land for the local park.

"Advertisements will soon appear for the sale of county land east of the Harrisburg Rd., land in which the park system has expressed no interest. Should it be a fact that no federal funds are available for the purchase of county farm land, we are considering advertising for sale the nine-acre triangular tract west of the Carlisle Rd. and north of Howard Ave.

"Articles have appeared in the press indicating that Adams County, because of the historical significance of certain county farm land, should be willing to preserve these lands in their undeveloped condition. Actually, title to the county farm is in the name of the Adams County Institution District. This branch of government has as its responsibility the care of the aged and indigent. It has no authority to hold title to land merely because of its historical significance."

13 HURT, TWO CARS SMASHED IN ROUTE 15 CRASH TODAY

Two cars were completely demolished by impact and fire and 13 persons were removed to the Warner Hospital at 12:30 o'clock this morning when the vehicles collided six miles south of here on the Emmitsburg Rd.

State police said James R. Fortner, 20, Taneytown R. 2, was driving north with five other young men in his car and attempted to pass another northbound vehicle between Sprigg's Garage and the Truck Stop restaurant.

As Fortner's vehicle swung into the west lane of the highway, it collided head-on with a Florida-bound auto operated by Louis C. Hillman, 35, Rochester, N. Y. There were four adults and three children in the Hillman auto.

Firemen Called
After the impact, the Hillman car burst into flames which spread to the Fortner auto. All of the occupants of the vehicles had been removed however before the fire.

Gettysburg and Greenmount fire companies were called to fight the flames and help direct traffic held up by the crash. The two Gettysburg Fire Company ambulances, the fire company rescue truck and the car of Chief Donald Staub were used to bring injured to the hospital where they were treated by Drs. Bruce N. Wolff and Roy W. Gifford.

Following treatment for his injuries, Fortner was taken by state police before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Gettysburg R. D., where he entered pleas of guilty and paid fines of $10 on each charge and costs for making a bad pass and driving without an operator's license. Police said he had not had a license for two years.

Borough police were called in later through the Salvation Army to provide lodging for the negro occupants of the Hillman car.

Two Seriously Hurt

Most seriously injured were two occupants of the Fortner car. Floyd T. Misner, 16, Thurmont R. 1, suffered a fracture of the right hip and lacerations of the upper right eyebrow. He was admitted to the Warner Hospital. Norman F. Anders, 22, Thurmont R. 1, has fractures of both legs, fractures of the jaw, lacerations of the right elbow and ankle, contusions of the chest and a puncture wound of the right upper stomach. He was removed to a Frederick Hospital. (Continued On Page 3)

FIREMEN HAVE 52 UNITS FOR JULY 2 PARADE

Fifty-two units have registered so far to participate in the parade here July 2 as part of the observance of the 96th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, the parade committee learned Friday evening when it met at the engine house, E. Middle St., to arrange the lineup of the parade.

Additional units may enter the parade up to starting time at 7 o'clock the evening of July 2, Chairman Donald McSherry said. However, units planning to enter and which have not as yet sent in cards notifying of their plans are asked to contact McSherry over the weekend if possible so a definite assignment can be given them in the parade.

The Second Army band will again lead the parade followed by the 14th Armored Cavalry.

Marshals From Auxiliary

Officers of the Auxiliary of the Gettysburg Fire Co., in cars, will serve as the marshals for the second, third and fourth divisions of the parade.

Among units listed so far as participating are the Hanover Drum and Bugle Corps, New Windsor Fire Co., Emmitsburg Fire Co., Naval Supply Depot (Continued On Page 2)

For Your Sake, And Your Children's, Watch For '...And Then There Was One'

Last year, 37,000 Americans were killed in auto accidents. This year it may be 38,000. The next Fourth of July weekend alone may take close to 400 lives.

And the reader reads such statistics and yawns. He's heard it all before. What do they mean? How do they affect him? Besides, what's on television tonight?

In the hope of capturing the full impact of a single set of human statistics from a single accident, the Associated Press sent writer Saul Pett to Shelbyville, Ill., May 22.

Seven Are Killed
A week before, on May 15, eight youngsters went to a high school prom, danced, crowded into one car, ate hamburgers at a drive-in and 15 minutes later were hit by a train. Seven were killed. The driver lived — but now had amnesia about the whole evening.

Pett's job was to reconstruct that evening — the details, the mood, the excited preparations for the prom, the clothes the kids wore, the things they said, the plans they made. In short, the whole progression of events toward that one split second of death.

Pett talked with police, school officials, student, friends, doctors, neighbors. But obviously, with the sole survivor unable to remember, he had to rely heavily on the victims' families.

"I told the mwhy we were doing this. It would be a dramatic story that would be read. I said it might even do some good. I said my own daughter, aged 16, was going to a prom shortly and I would hope she'd read it," Pett says.

Read It June 29
"The families talked reluctantly at first. In each case, I was prepared to leave after a few moments. But as they talked, they seemed to gather momentum, and were helping each other with half-remembered details.

"It was a moving example of good people seeing a good purpose in painful recollections. I hope the story justifies their pain."

Pett's story will appear Monday, June 29, in this newspaper. It is one you will not soon forget.

LIST PROGRAM FOR VISITATION DAY ON JUNE 27

The annual Visitation Day sponsored by the Auxiliary of the Adams County Home will be held at the home June 27 from 11 a.m. until 7:30 p.m. Highlights of the day's activities will be a festival bazaar, rummage sale, the sale of new items contributed by Gettysburg and Adams County merchants, and a pet show for children.

Registration for the pet show will take place at 1 p.m. with the show getting under way at 2 o'clock. Children up to 16 years of age are invited to bring all their pets which will be judged in classes. A loving cup and blue ribbons will be awarded as prizes.

Refreshments will be available all day. There will be homemade cakes, pies, canned goods, fruits and vegetables, and fancy work. Mrs. Charles Kuhn, Cashtown, is chairman of the committee for Visitation Day.

MRS. BOWMAN DIES FRIDAY

Mrs. Zula Deatrick Bowman, 84, died at her home on E. York St., Biglerville, Friday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock.

A life-long resident of Adams County, she was a daughter of the late Henry and Harriet (Gardner) Deatrick. Her husband, the late Capt. Samuel H. Bowman, preceded her in death.

She was a life-long member of Trinity-Bender's United Church of Christ, Biglerville, and was organist at the church for many years.

A graduate of Shippensburg Normal School, she taught in the Adams County schools for 16 years and later taught at the Massanutten Academy at Woodstock, Va., and Linden Hall at Littleton.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Trinity-Bender's Church, Biglerville, with the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox officiating. Interment in the Biglerville Cemetery. The body will lie in state at the church from 1:30 Monday afternoon until the time of service. Funeral arrangements were made through the Wilson Funeral Home, Fairfield.

The foundation, embracing 42 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania, is designed to interpret the significant role of independent colleges to society. The participating institutions present a joint annual appeal to business and industry for funds to better their educational services.

Gettysburg College also received a bequest of $9,250 from Samuel P. Caltrider, Westminister, executor of the estate of the late Effie E. H. Bell. An 1898 Gettysburg graduate, Mrs. Bell willed the sum for establishment of a scholarship fund. She was a retired teacher.

A third grant came from Aircraft Marine Products, Inc. The Harrisburg industrial firm gave $500 for the college's general fund.

European Beauties Warned About U.S.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"Buy a car. It's cheaper than taxis." "Try and survive without a doctor, because even a shot costs $10. Under no circumstances go into a hospital unless you are convinced you are dying, because it costs $20 a day."

These are some of the suggestions left for a group of curvy incoming European beauties by a group of curvy outgoing European beauties.

Miss Jean Louise Hummer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hummer, Manheim, became the bride of Mr. John Hamlin, Harrisburg, son of Mrs. Mary Jane Barach, Fairfield, and the late Jay Emien Hamlin, Sunday, May 24, at 2 p.m. in the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Manheim.

The Rev. Charles E. Farmer officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Eleanor E. Hummer, Manheim, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William Steier, Ephrata; Miss Mary R. Keener, Wyomissing; and Miss Margaret Royer, Glenside.

Charles Dolphin, Washington, D. C., served as best man. Ushers were Carl Jensen, Union, N. J.; Walter Sterner, Ephrata, and J. Reid Hummer, Manheim, brother of the bride.

Claudia Miller, Manheim, was flower girl and J. Reid Buckwalter, Littleton, was ring bearer. Vocalist was Miss Rachel Meyers, Laurel, Pa., and organist was Mrs. Francis Cassel, Manheim.

The reception was held in the social room of the church. After a wedding trip to Puerto Rico, the couple will live in Harrisburg.

The bride was graduated from Manheim Central High School, attended Gettysburg College and is a graduate of the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing. The bridegroom is a graduate of Mercersburg Academy and Gettysburg College. He is now employed in retailing by Pomeroy's, of Harrisburg.

Scouters Attend 2nd Training Session

The second training session for adults connected with the York Springs Boy Scout Troop was held Friday night at the Scout cabin in York Springs with Donald Carver of the Black Walnut Boy Scout District committee as instructor.

A film showing Boy Scout patrol activities was shown and instruction was given in the relationship of the adult to the troop, organization of patrols and selection of patrol leaders.

Plans had been made to hold an instruction course for adults connected with the Explorer post in York Springs. Charles Beasley, associate advisor for Explorer Post 73, Gettysburg; Stanley C. Rogers, Scout field executive, and Timothy Farrell, chairman of organization and extension for the district, were present to provide the instruction but no adults appeared for the Explorer course.

Can't Make Pupil Be Integrated

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Florida now has a law which prevents a child from being forced to attend an integrated school.

Gov. Leroy Collins allowed the legislative act to become law Friday. The law permits the transfer of a pupil objecting to integration and if a local school board refuses, the child cannot be compelled under the state's compulsory attendance law to attend racially mixed classes.

Collins did not sign the bill, but allowed it to become law without his signature.

The 5 foot 5 beauty, a sophomore at the University of Southern California, was picked by the fraternity, in convention here Friday night.

B. E. GENTZLER DIES SUDDENLY

Bayard E. "Pete" Gentzler, 79, 233 S. Washington St., died suddenly Friday afternoon at 3:25 o'clock at the Moose home, York St.

Dr. C. G. Crist, the county coroner, attributed the death to a heart attack.

A retired former employee at the Gettysburg Furniture factories, Mr. Gentzler had gone to the Moose home and complained of feeling ill. He was assisted by the secretary, Dewey E. Wolff, to the rest room, and then as he appeared to be becoming more ill, a nurse, who was visiting at the home, was called to Gentzler's assistance. She directed that a physician be summoned, but upon his arrival death had occurred.

A veteran of World War I, he was with the Mechanic Supply Co. of the 316th Infantry and fought in the Meuse Argonne area in France.

He was a son of the late John and Margaret (Ketterman) Gentzler and was a member of the Moose and the American Legion. His wife, the former Estelle Marie Reeve, preceded him in death.

Funeral services Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Peters Funeral Home with the Rev. Harold Myers officiating. Friends may visit the funeral home Monday evening from 7 until 9 o'clock.

of the association, said that the display is open to the public and that no admission is charged. One requirement, he said, is that children be accompanied by adults.

The association has about 600 members in 33 states, Scott said. It meets five or six times each year.

Guns and other weapons on display range from modern to ancient with the emphasis on the older pieces. Among these is a LeMat nine-shot revolver such as was imported from France and issued to Confederate officers during the Civil War. The piece is shown by Gail Olson, Williamsburg, N. Y., who values it at $350.

Melvin J. Abrams and John N. Wetzelberger Jr., Towson, Md., have on display a Colt revolving military musket. These were used by the U. S. Army but are now rare.

Possibly the smallest piece in the show is a Shattuck muff pistol or derring. James A. Smith, Clifton, N. J., who has this piece, said, "This is the kind the girls used to carry tucked in their stockings. If you got too fresh, they let you have it."

Juveniles Smash Honesty Legacy

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—"There is no legacy like honesty," the sign said.

Below it, on the bulletin board of Pan American College, were tacked dollar bills. A student needing a small loan could take a bill or two, with the understanding it would be repaid as soon as possible.

It all worked fine, officials said, until four nonstudent juveniles dropped in. They cleaned off the board — $27 worth — with no plans for repayment.

Juvenile officers picked up the quartet and turned them over to their parents. Police didn't say how much money was recovered.

SIX NEGROES ARRESTED IN RAPE OF GIRL

NEW YORK (AP) — Six Negro youths, aged 14 to 17, have been arrested in the Corona, Queens, schoolyard rape of a 14-year-old white girl. She was attacked three times.

The victim, a pretty blonde eighth grader in the junior high school, was assaulted Thursday night after attending a recreation program at the school. Her name was withheld by police.

The girl identified as her assailants John Rich, 16, Edward Jacobs, 17, and Jacob Bethea and Henry Stokes, both 16. All four were charged with rape.

Admit Assault
Police said Rich and Bethea admitted assaulting the girl, but that Jacobs denied it. They said Stokes admitted holding the girl down while the others attacked her. Rich is employed as a messenger boy. The others were students at the Brooklyn Automotive School.

All four will be arraigned today in Ridgewood Felony Court.

Arraigned Friday and charged with juvenile delinquency were a 14-year-old and 15-year-old boy. Their names were not made public. The 14-year-old, accused of being the lookout, was a student in a school for problem children. The 15-year-old was a student at Flushing, Queens, High School.

Police said Bethea was the youth who first grabbed the girl, hit her with his fist, and raped her the first time.

The victim's girl companions fled in panic. Police said the girl who was assaulted had been gagged, but that she managed to work the gag free and screamed. Her screams were heard by Mrs. Louis Clifford, director of the recreation program, who rushed into the school yard. The youths fled.

The Corona section's population is about equally divided between white and Negroes. An unidentified detective told newsmen:

"There was nothing racial about the attack. It was just a punk kid trying to prove himself in front of his friends."

Rape is punishable by a prison sentence in New York State.

FAIRFIELD'S FIREFMEN TO SEEK FUNDS

Fairfield firemen will visit homes and business places in the area next week during the annual solicitation by the fire company.

Fire Chief Roger Myers said the firemen will begin their work Monday evening about 6 o'clock going from door to door to collect coin cards sent the residents in February.

The firemen hope to complete their visits by the end of the week in order to be free for the work connected with the annual Fairfield Firemen's Festival and Homecoming to be held June 30 through July 4.

Gives Financial Picture
Last year's solicitation brought $3,080 into the treasury for the Fairfield Community Fire Co., Myers said. Expenses of the company during 1958 totaled $4,249 including $820 for electricity and heat, $135 for phone and water, $550 for insurance on buildings and apparatus, $220 interest on the debt of the company, $1,650 for replacement of 1,000 feet of 2½-inch hose, $90 for replacement of a booster nozzle, $115 for replacement of a 2½-inch nozzle, $340 for repairs and maintenance of equipment and $300 for repairs to building.

During the last year the company responded to calls to 18 fires, stood by on five calls for emergencies, provided assistance to other fire companies on six calls and took part in three calls for Civil Defense emergencies.

Value of the property endangered by the various fires in which the Fairfield firemen fought was $130,000, Chief Myers said, while the value of the property lost was $35,000 "thus showing that $95,000 was saved by the action of your fire company."

Lawrence Was Top Donator In Judge Race

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov. Lawrence's contribution of $1,000 was the largest received by the state Democratic organization in the primary campaign for the nomination of Judge Michael J. Eagen for State Supreme Court and Judge Harry M. Montgomery for Superior Court.

The Eagen-Montgomery Campaign Committee reported contributions totaling $13,025.

Justice Thomas D. McBride, who failed in a bid for both the Democratic and Republican nomination did not file an expense account before Friday's deadline. A State Elections Bureau spokesman said there is no penalty and that McBride's report is expected soon.

Judge Blair F. Gunther, Pittsburgh, reported spending $361 to win the Republican nomination. Eagen, Scranton, reported spending $2,557 apart from what his campaign committee laid out in funds and Montgomery, Pittsburgh said he spent $290 dollars.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Smethport attorney, and House Republican floor leader, also failed to meet the expense account filing deadline.

Raise Ceiling On U. S. National Debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the sixth time since President Eisenhower took office in 1953, the House has passed a bill raising the ceiling on the national debt.

This time it is a peacetime top of 295 billion dollars. That was exceeded only by a temporary ceiling of 300 billion dollars during World War II, but the actual debt then was smaller than it is today.

Grumbling and blame-laying, House members Friday sent the booster bill to the Senate by a vote of 255-117. There it is expected to run into further opposition, but pass in the end.

The first successful cotton mill in the United States opened at Pawtucket, R. I., in 1790.

CHURCH WOMEN HEAR NEED FOR MISSIONARIES

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Central Pennsylvania Methodist women were told today that countries of Asia and Africa, caught up in a rising tide of nationalism and independence, still want missionaries badly.

In an address prepared for delivery before women delegates attending the 19th annual conference of Central Pennsylvania Methodists, Mrs. John C. Mabuce, Buffalo, declared:

"Countries preoccupied with a growing spirit of nationalism and independence still welcome the Christian missionary—but a different kind from what we sent 50 years ago.

Better Trained
"They want better educated and highly trained young people—doctors, nurses, teachers and technicians of all kinds to teach them how to do themselves the jobs that need to be done."

Mrs. Mabuce is president of the northeastern jurisdiction of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

She reported that some governments in southeast Asia, for example, are offering land and buildings for social community centers and churches.

"The Christian church must not fail these people at this time," she concluded.

Ministerial and lay delegates to the conference will hold a testimonial tonight for Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, Washington, D. C. Dr. Fred G. Holloway, president of Drew University, Madison, N. J., will be main speaker.

The conference voted Friday to spend $200,000 between 1960 and 1964 for purchasing camp sites under the conference outdoor camping program. The camps, for persons of all ages, will be supervised by the conference's board of education.

In other business, the conference adopted a resolution for presentation before the church's general conference in Denver next spring urging the conference to work toward union with the Evangelical United Brethren Church. The resolution was offered by the Rev. Victor B. Hann, of Mechanicsburg.

Voted to conference membership were these ministers: Neil R. A. bright, Madera; Richard L. Beard, Clearfield; Richard F. Brennehan, Stewartstown; Bruce D. Fisher, Williamsport; and David B. Reams, Philipsburg.

Dalai Lama Is Ready To Confer

MUSSOORIE, India (AP) — The self-exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet said today he would welcome a meeting between Prime Minister Nehru of India and Premier Chou En-lai of Red China to thresh out a solution to the Tibetan problem.

The fugitive god-king told his first news conference since he arrived in India two months ago that he was undecided about his future but would not stay in India indefinitely.

The Dalai Lama said he was pleased that India, his host country, had championed Tibet's cause, as it did that of Algeria, Morocco and Tunisia.

He said he would welcome a summit meeting between Nehru and Chou En-lai "if the actual events in Tibet were considered in their true perspective."

The Dalai Lama added he would also welcome "the support of all countries of the world, including Soviet Russia," for the Tibetan cause.

Will Name Beauty Winner Tonight

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Miss Pennsylvania of 1959 will be chosen tonight with two girls, Susan Metzgar of Lewistown and Lois Janet Piercy of Springfield, Delaware County, prime favorites for the title.

Each was a double winner in the preliminary competition. Miss Metzgar, competing as Miss Susquehanna Valley, won the bathing suit division Thursday night and scored in the talent field Friday night.

Miss Piercy reversed that order. The 21-year-old brunette competed as Miss Centre County. She entered from Pennsylvania State University, where she was graduated earlier this month.

The judges also score for evening gown competition, personality, and other factors.

NEWMAN RITES TODAY

2,500 KIDDIES

Howard Shoemaker, Gareth Biser and Mrs. Kathleen Trostle, instructors at the Recreation Park, reported 772 attendance. Much of the week was devoted to instruction in baseball and softball, with swimming instruction Thursday.

Next week the boys will be assigned to various baseball teams and drill be given in batting, fielding, bunting, etc. Concluding the week's activities will be the first practice games between the teams. Mrs. Trostle reported a first practice game for the girls which the Hawks won 13 to 12 over the Cardinals. The Pigtails will begin regular games next week. For the games the Hawks will wear black Bermudas and white blouses, the Cardinals red Bermudas and white blouses and the Pigtails will make an insignia from colored yarn to be worn on the sleeves.

Plan For Next Week
Richard N. Allison and Ted Hise, instructors for the boys, and Mrs. Carol Bream, instructor for the girls at the college field, reported attendance of 492. Formation of the minor pee-wee baseball teams was emphasized during the week. Next week play in the baseball leagues will begin. Ladder tournaments are planned for badminton, archery, croquet, horseshoes and checkers. Similar activities are scheduled for the girls.

At the Keefeauver playground attendance was 556. John Toggas, instructor for the boys, reported organization for baseball occupied much of the week plus games, horseshoes, badminton, volleyball, archery, etc. Next week bicycle races are planned and contests will begin in checkers, horseshoes, archery, badminton and volleyball.

Toggas reported an older boys group formed at Keefeauver has issued a challenge to similar groups at other playgrounds in baseball, volleyball, archery and badminton. A bicycle rodeo and checker tournament featured the girls activities conducted by Miss Patricia Schriver at Keefeauver School. Next week will be hobby week for the girls at the playground.

One hundred thirty-four took part in the swimming instruction conducted by Mrs. Carol Bream. A schedule set up for the summer for swimming at the college pool from 9 to 11 in the mornings follows: Monday, College Field boys; Tuesday, Keefeauver boys; Wednesday, Recreation Field boys; Thursday, College Field and Keefeauver Field girls; Friday, Recreation Park girls.

Robert Zeigler reported attendance of 79 for the instrumental music program held mornings at the recreation field. Additional youngsters interested in music may register during the coming week.

JUST BE KIND

The virtues of the heart never run out of style. Every day their basic power shines forth, ennobling all within contact of them. The good and great live on. There is permanence to spiritual intelligence.

The simple, kindly things are what make life worth while. These kindly things are displayed in the heart, and their influence never dies out in the world. Just be kind and experience the result! We live today in a world of fears and anxiety. We cannot afford to lose our courage, nor our faith. Just be kind and a multitude of problems will disappear as though they had never been around.

People complicate life, and so give themselves over to worry and needless problems. Just be kind, and do not burden yourself to carry more than your strength was meant to bear. Each of us, by our Creator, has been allotted additional strength for the extra demands that we may be called upon to handle.

Worry, anger and bodily unkindness do greater damage to a person than is fully realized. How a person brightens up when he is treated with a little unexpected kindness! It is so easy to be kind. No extra effort is required. It's the little things that keep this world moving and alert.

George Gissing, the English novelist, on his way home one evening, came upon a crying child and learned that it had lost a six pence. It didn't take this kindly man long to produce a new one, putting it into a chubby little hand—and then came the miracle. A sixpence of happiness, and no more grief. Just be kind, and you will not want for friends.

Do you believe that you're hard pressed?

Your father had his troubles, too.

Yet he kept on and did his best.

And made a smoother path for you.

He saw you following behind.

And bravely fought his fights with dread.

So that your feet would some day find.

A little better path to tread.

Then what of those who follow you?

Are they to find a rougher way.

A Bit Of History About Black's Graveyard

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

B. F. M. MACPHERSON

The Marsh Creek Settlement

In the historical and genealogical study of Black's Graveyard (Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian) the readers of this column have probably noticed that many of the early Scotch (or "Scotch-Irish") as they are more commonly called, who settled on the then western frontier, are buried in this churchyard. Many of the very old graves are unmarked so, unless a historical miracle takes place, the names of all the occupants of these barely distinguishable mounds will never be known — with any degree of certainty. So few records remain that it is somewhat difficult to give even a partially complete sketch of the early days.

Among the marked graves of the "Scotch-Irish" pioneers in Black's Graveyard is that of Thomas Armstrong, died 1759 aged 74 years, Robert Black, died 1760 aged 44 years, William Boyd (no dates given on the marker), Thomas Boyd, died 1760 aged 35 years, James Innis, died 1766 aged 62 years, Robert Innis, died 1763 aged 40 years, William Myles, died 1762 aged 95 years, Charles McAllister, died 1774 aged 81 years, Robert McKee, died 1757 aged 67 years, Robert McNutt, died 1772 aged 75 years, John Morrison, died 1749 aged 70 years, and Andrew Thompson, died 1768 aged 64 years.

Remains Are Removed

Descendants of the pioneer MacPhersons (MacPherson), Buchanans, McConaughtys, and Hamiltons removed the remains of their ancestors from Black's Graveyard to the Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, during the latter part of the nineteenth century. There the old black slate stones, the majority of them bearing family crests carved thereon, can be seen today.

The "Scotch-Irish" pioneers who emigrated, first from Scotland to Northern Ireland and from thence to America, seemed to have had a marked ability to "follow the frontier." On their arrival in this country the majority of them settled "on the fringe" of the then existing settlements and as the frontier moved further west — moved with it. Apparently they did not like to be crowded.

In what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, the "Scotch-Irish" formed, in the very early part of the eighteenth century, the Marsh Creek Settlement. The land at the foot of the South Mountain resembled, to some extent, the Highlands of Scotland, and here the Scotch emigrants decided to build their homes. These people apparently crossed the Susquehanna at Harris Ferry (now Harrisburg, Pennsylvania) and came through the South Mountains to what was then the western part of Lancaster County and from 1749 to 1800 included in York County, Pennsylvania.

Serve Against Indians

This settlement, or district, was called upon, during its early days, to do active service against the Indians. The people became injured to all sorts of hardships and were thoroughly self-dependent and aggressive. Perhaps this is why the American Revolution is sometimes called the "Scotch-Irish" Rebellion.

The term "Marsh Creek Settlement" has been applied to all of the settlers within the proprietary manor known as the "Manor of the Masque (Maske)." There was, however, another "Scotch-Irish" settlement, known as the "Great Conewago Settlement," near the town founded by Captain David Hunter, now known as Hunters-town. So closely and intimately were the people of these two settlements connected in all matters of historical interest that in speaking of Marsh Creek the Great Conewago settlement is included.

Marsh Creek Settlement

The Marsh Creek settlement proper comprised a strip of land about six miles wide, beginning at a point two or three miles north of Hunters-town and extending to the Maryland line, a distance of some twelve or fourteen miles. This includes within its scope Gettysburg and Hunters-town, the whole of Cumberland Township, and portions of Straban, Franklin, Freedom, as well as a slice of Carroll's Tract.

The "Scotch-Irish" settlers gave early attention to the claims of religion and education. Schools and churches were built almost as soon as the cabins of the pioneers. Most of their ministers (the majority of them were Presbyterians) were men of education and eloquence. In addition to preaching and teaching, they (the ministers) also labored with their hands. One of them thus described his early experiences: — "When I came to this country the cabin in which I was to live was raised, but there was no roof to it, nor any chimney or floor. We had neither bedstead, nor table, nor stool, nor chairs, nor buckets. We placed two boxes, one on top of the other, which served us for a table, and two keds served for seats. We spread a bed on the floor and slept soundly till morning. Sometimes, indeed, we had no bread for weeks together, but we did have all the necessities of life."

"Manor Of Maske"

As stated before many of the early "Scotch-Irish" settled on lands which were later to be included in a proprietary manor, known as the "Manor of the Masque (Maske)." These people were well established on their plantations when the provincial surveyors arrived for the purpose of running the lines of the manor. The order for the survey, bearing the date June 18, 1741, is as follows:

"By the Proprietaries."

"These are to authorize and require thee to survey or cause to be surveyed a tract of land on the Branches of Marsh Creek on the west side of the River Susquehanna in the County of Lancaster containing about thirty thousand acres for our own proper use and behoof and the same to return under the name and style of our Manor of Maske in the County of Lancaster aforesaid and for so doing this shall be thy sufficient warrant. Given under my hand and the seal of our Land office at Philadelphia this eighteenth day of June in the year of our Lord one Thousand Seven Hundred and Forty-one."

To Benj. A. Eastburn, "Surveyor-General."

"Thos. Penn."

It would seem that the matter of laying out the "Manor of the Masque (Maske)" had been decided upon at a somewhat earlier date. In the "Pennsylvania Archives" there is a letter, dated June 17, 1741, from Zachary Butcher, a deputy-surveyor, in which he alludes to his efforts, some two weeks earlier, to make the survey. This letter, which should be of great interest to the descendants of the "Scotch-Irish" pioneers, is as follows:—

"Sir:—I was designed about two weeks ago to have laid out the Manor at Marsh Creek, but the inhabitants are got into such Terms, That it is as much as man's Life is worth to go amongst them, for they gathered together in Conferences, and go in Arms every Time they Expect I am anywhere near there about, with full resolution to kill or cripple me, or any other person, who shall attempt to Lay out a Manor there."

"Yet if the Honble Proprietor shall think fit to order such assistance as shall withstand such unreasonable Creatures, I shall be ready and willing to persecute the same with my utmost endeavor, as soon as I come back from Virginia. I am going there on an urgent occasion."

"I am yours to serve,"

"Zach. Butcher, Dpt."

Below is the list, printed at the time, of the settlers on Marsh Creek, who obstructed the survey in 1743, when another attempt was made to run the lines.

1. Wm. McLellan (McClellan).
2. Jos. Farris.
3. Jos. McCain (McKean).
4. Matw. Black.
5. Jam. McMichell.
6. Robt. McFarson (MacPherson).

26. Hugh Swainey. (Sweeney) — probably buried in Black's Graveyard.
27. Titus Darby.
28. Thomas Hooswick (Hosack) — buried in Black's Graveyard.

Nothing more was done regarding the survey of the Manor of Masque (Maske) until the year 1765. A compromise, with the settlers on the manor lands, was effected early that year mainly through the efforts of James Agnew and Robert McPherson (MacPherson), who acted as a committee for the people. They were able to secure a concession agreeing that lands taken up in the manor prior to 1741 should be subject to the "common terms" and that all others should be liberally treated. The boundaries of the Manor of the Masque (Maske) were thereupon run and marked in 1766, and were made to include

NEW RELIGIOUS SECT GROWS IN PHILIPPINES

By M. P. SARMIENTO

MANILA (AP)—A comparatively new religious sect has gained a firm foothold in the predominantly Roman Catholic Philippines.

Founded by a Filipino in 1914, the "Iglesia ni Cristo" (literally Church of Christ) has grown from a mere handful to the most aggressive and close-knit of Philippine religious minorities.

There are no up-to-date official records but Director Leon Manalo of the Bureau of Census and Statistics says the Iglesia's claim of a million members is "close to being correct."

Other Religious Sects

Other religious sects in the Philippines include Protestants, Moslems, Buddhists and Jews but 84 per cent of the 23 million Filipinos are Roman Catholics.

The top man of the Iglesia is Felix Manalo, 73-year-old former Protestant preacher who is looked upon by his followers as the source of salvation of their souls.

Manalo was a Seventh Day Adventist until he broke with the Adventist Central Office over doctrine and administrative policies. Then, it is claimed, he got a "message" from God.

Repeats "Message"

It is told that after fasting for three days and nights to reassess his beliefs, Manalo decided to go out among the people and tell them of his message.

Basically, the Iglesia is a faith of the poor and middle class. It has neither priests nor saints. Even Manalo is titled merely "executive minister."

Doctrinal Text

Its tenets are based on Revelations 7:1-3:

"And after these things, I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds, that the winds should not blow on the earth, nor on any sea nor on any tree."

"And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God; and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea. 'Saying, hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of God in their foreheads.'"

The Iglesia believes that the Big Four of World War I (Woodrow Wilson, Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau and Vittorio Orlando) might have plunged the world into a "more disastrous war" were it not for the timely appearance of Manalo, the prophesied angel from the east.

The Iglesia holds services on Thursday and Sunday. Its rituals are simple. Service usually consists of hymns, a prayer, the sermon and more prayers. The Iglesia does not believe in communions or confessions.

Symbols of the rise of this aggressive new faith are its chapels, some 3,000 in various parts of the country. They are given to fanciful towers and flashy facades.

43,500 acres instead of the 30,000 originally ordered.

Let's Look At The Record

ADENAUER VS. ERHARD

"The Old One" Has Become Reluctant State Department Should Keep Hands Off

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

LAST MAY, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer looked like a great, unselfish statesman. Last week the press of the world was picturing him as a selfish, conceited, grasping old man.

Worse yet, the American State Department is getting credit for dabbling in German internal politics.

The whole thing is a quick turn of events no one could have predicted — not even Adenauer and Erhard themselves. It has produced a political cauldron whence could come a witch's brew.

WERE IT NOT for some of the past unbridled stupidities of the State Department careerists under Dean Acheson, not to mention his own occasional aptitude for putting his foot in his mouth, one would refuse to believe anyone in our State Department could be so foolish as to dabble in this hassle.

But with the firm hand of Mr. Dulles gone and Mr. Herter busy in Geneva, the situation is ripe for careerist conniving and individual, diplomatic opportunism, such as discredited Mr. Acheson's handling of State Department affairs and policies.

THE ROOT OF THE trouble is Adenauer's age — 83.

Germany has often been accused of idolizing successful leaders to the point of becoming oblivious to age. The grip upon public esteem that the admittedly senile, 85-years-of-age Paul von Hindenburg had when he was re-elected to save the group — First German Republic in 1932 is often cited.

But modern Germans have a painful sense of history.

They now know that it was through the faltering mind and feeble hand of Hindenburg that Adolf Hitler acquired a cloak of legality for dictatorial government by decree.

Old Paul was soon with his fathers. The nightmare of Hitler's disastrous tyranny followed.

Thoughtful Germans with firm memories have become increasingly jittery with every Adenauer birthday since the eightieth.

AGING ADENAUER'S PARTY, normally abbreviated CDU (Christian Democratic Union), is a working coalition of rural Catholics, industrial, business and trade union interests.

They are held together largely by the magic of success.

The name Adenauer is another word for that success.

Since the election of 1953, the CDU has had a good working majority of 270 of the 497 voting members in the German Federal Diet (parliament). But 169 Social Democrats (SPD), 41 Free Democrats (FDP) and 17 of the German Party (DP) represent such tightly organized minorities that Adenauer has yielded two of the seventeen cabinet posts to the small but growing German Party.

These figures reveal how a leaderless West German democcracy could fragment into a selfish, splinter-party chaos such as made France the laughing stock of nations.

That this must not happen to West Germany, all agree, most particularly the responsible, thinking Germans.

THIS IS THE situation that caused Adenauer to counsel with his CDU party last May and announce he was quitting the chancellorship for the honorific title and emoluments of President.

He did make it clear that as President he would handle foreign affairs.

What Adenauer seems to have had in mind was the naming of his own successor to the chancellorship, through whom he might exercise foreign affairs power through advisement.

He favored Franz Eitel, the finance minister.

But the minister for economic affairs, Dr. Ludwig Erhard, got the informal, party caucus nod.

That is when Adenauer changed his mind.

'Erhard is a good economics minister. Now they want to make a foreign policy leader out of him. You have to get rid of this idea that anybody can do anything.'

ERHARD, already in Washington, D. C., on a sort of warm-up for foreign affairs duties, blew his lid.

He could not accept "this historic lie that I am less qualified than the chancellor to guide my people."

This is the internal, political hassle in which the State Department is said to be dabbling — and in favor of Adenauer!

It is hard to believe, but stranger things have happened in America's careerist and opportunistic ridden State Department.

Meanwhile, we can only hope that, for West Germany and world peace, the truce between Adenauer and Erhard proves lasting and that from it a great, younger statesman emerges.

ORIOLES TAKE
2 GAMES FROM KANSAS CITY

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yankees are back in business with the help of newcomer Jim Coates.

Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra had the clutch hits Friday night as the Yankees, still fifth, closed within 2½ games of the top with a 3-2 victory over Cleveland's American League leading Indians.

But it was Coates who put it away. The big rookie, 26, nailed the opener of a four-game series with one-hit pitching for 3 1-3 shut-out innings in relief of injured Whitey Ford.

Ford Sprains Ankle
Coates came on after Ford, who blanked the Indians on four hits for four innings, gave way because of a sprained ankle in a tying, two-run sixth.

That rally ended with Minnie Minoso's thwarted theft of home and the Indians lost their second in a row after winning seven straight. They now have only a one-game lead over the Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles, who are in a virtual tie for second.

The White Sox, idled by rain at Boston, have a .001 percentage point edge over the Orioles, who swept a two-night pair from Kansas City 8-2 and 2-0.

Tigers Beat Senators
Detroit retained fourth place by beating Washington 6-4 in 11 innings.

The Yankees, only .042 points behind Cleveland, scored the clincher with an unearned run on Bauer's two-out single in the sixth.

Berra collected his 1,200th RBI with a two-out single for the first of two runs in the fifth. Later Gary Bell (6-6), after blanking the Yankees on one hit for four frames, then wild pitched the other run home. Ford was injured sliding as he was forced at second in that inning.

Triandos Gets 17th Homer
The Orioles put away the sweep on a joint shutout by Skinny Brown and Billy Loes backed by Gus Triandos' 17th homer—the 100th of his career—and Bob Boyd's RBI single. Brown (4-2) gave up five of the A's seven hits in the last two innings. Loes saved it by retiring pinch hitter Ray Boone on a fly with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Gene Woodling and Billy Gardner each homered and drove in three runs for Baltimore in the opener. Billy O'Dell (3-6) won it, allowing only four hits. Johnny Kucks (1-4) and Rip Coleman (2-5) were the losers for the A's, who have dropped seven straight.

The Tigers came from three runs back, tying it 4-4 in the ninth on singles by Ted Lepcio and Frank Bolling and a force play. They broke it up with a pair in the 13th on an error, singles by Cott Veal and Eddie Yost and Larry Osborne's sacrifice fly. Barney Scholtz won it in relief.

The Nats, blanked over the last eight innings by starter Paul Foytack and Schultz, scored three in the first on Faye Throneberry's solo homer and Harmon Killebrew's two-run homer. It was Killebrew's 24th, tops in the majors and even with Babe Ruth's record 60 pace of 1927.

Fairfield
Lions League

Orrtanna stayed unbeaten in the Fairfield Lions League by drubbing Mummaburg 13-5 Friday evening at Mummaburg.

It was the third straight victory for the league leaders.

The game was a makeup of the 7-7 tie played on June 10.

Gettysburg
Little League

The Moose gained a tie for third place in the Gettysburg Little League by over-powering the Gettysburg National Bank, 14-2, Friday evening on the recreation field. The win gives the Moose a 4-3 record identical with the third place Elks.

Manager "Bud" Knox's outfit jumped to a 4-0 lead in the second on singles by Richie Fair, Ron Plank and Ron Fox, and walks to Rick Fisel, Larry Shindeldecker and Jay Baker.

The National Bank retaliated in the bottom of the second with one score. With two out, Miller drew a walk, went to second on a passed ball, and scored on an infield miscue. John Eyerer was hit by a pitcher ball, Nelson Wansel got on via a fielder's choice and a single to center by Miller enabled Wansel to come home.

The Moose continued on their scoring spree by crossing the plate six times in the third, three more in the fourth and once in the fifth. The power hits during the spurge of runs were a double to left by Larry Shindeldecker and a long triple to deep center by Ron Plank.

Rick Fisel went the distance on the mound for the winners, capturing his first win against one setback. Mike Doyle started for the Bank but was relieved by Bob Harman in the third and Joe Redding in the fifth. Doyle is charged with the loss. Ron Plank was the Moose's top slugger with three for four while Miller and Joe Redding collected the only Bank hits.

Lew Hoad, Frank Sedgman, Pancho Gonzales, Ken Rosewall, Pancho Segura and Tony Trabert also are entered.

MOSCOW (AP)—Terry McCann of Tulsa, Okla.—three times American flyweight champion today was elected captain of the U.S. wrestling team which will engage the Russians in a series of exhibitions.

MEXICO CITY (AP)—At least 10 countries including the U.S. are expected to compete in the third World Diamond Belt Amateur Boxing Championships Sept. 16-19, officials said today.

QUINCY, Ill. (AP)—Western Illinois, led by medalist Jim King, Friday became the first non-Texas school to win the NAIA golf championship. Western's four-man team annexed the eighth annual championship with a 72-hole total of 1,186 to finish six strokes ahead of defending champion Lamar Tech which was aiming for its fourth straight title.

King's one-under-par 69 gave him a four-round total of 282 for individual honors. He also had rounds of 67-73-73.

GIANTS CHASE
BRAVES OUT OF
TOP POSITION

By ED WILKS

If you think Sam Jones is the hero of the hour now that San Francisco has shoved Milwaukee's Braves out of the National League lead, forget it. Sad Sam is the Giants' hero of the month.

It took Jackie Brandt's two-run single in the bottom of the 10th to put the Giants .006 percentage points and a half-game ahead with a 4-3 victory over the Braves Friday night, but it figures as the least they could do for Jones.

The big right-hander had given up two runs and five hits in the first three innings—then allowed only three hits the rest of the way. Two of those came in the 10th and two were by Billy Bruton, whose fifth homer gave Milwaukee a 3-2 edge in the top of the 10th.

Buhl Is Chased
Then the Giants chased Bob Buhl and ended Milwaukee's first-place stay that had begun May 13.

Ironically, it was Jones who was the loser when the Giants fell from first place May 5. And it was Jones who was beaten 4-2 by Milwaukee May 18, the day before the Braves took a 4½-game lead over the Giants.

Since then, a month to the day, the Giants have won 19—and Sad Sam has figured in more than a third of those victories. Now 8-6, Jones has won five of six decisions in that span and has added two saves in relief, having a hand in 7 of the 19 victories in the Giants comeback.

Third-place Pittsburgh closed within two games of the top with a 6-0 victory over St. Louis. Los Angeles rapped Cincinnati 6-2, and Philadelphia defeated Chicago's Cubs 8-7.

The Giants, who tied it 2-2 all night, Davenport's single, a walk and two force outs in the fifth, put it away after Buhl (6-5) walked Willie Mays leading off the 10th. Orlando Cepeda's only hit, a single, sent Willie scrambling to third and chased Buhl. Reliever Don McMahon then walked Daryl Spencer, loading the bases for Brandt's third single.

Jones Whiffs Nine
Jones struck out nine and walked but three while gaining a 3-1 season record against the Braves.

The Giants now have won three in a row, while the Braves have lost five of their last seven.

Vern Law (7-4) shut out the seventh-place Cardinals on four innings, two by Gino Cimoli. The Pirates, winning seven of their last nine, backed him with eight hits, including homers by Ramon Mejias and Dick Groat against rookie Dick Ricketts (0-2).

Duke Snider drove in four runs with a pair of homers for the Dodgers. His first, with two on, triggered a five-run first inning that handed Brooks Lawrence (3-8) his seventh defeat in a row. The Phils had homers from Harry Anderson and Ed Bouchee while building a 7-2 lead, but needed an unearned run in the seventh to nail it. Gene Conley (4-3) won it, but gave way to reliever Ernie Banks' two-run, 19th homer in the sixth inning. Rookie Bob Anderson (3-6) was the loser.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hal Kolstad's pitching and home runs by Dick McCarthy and Zeke King have moved Allentown to within a game of the Eastern League leading Williamsport Grays.

The three stood out last night as Allentown defeated Reading 3-2 in the only league action. Rain washed out all other games.

Kolstad pitched a three-hitter and had a shutout until the ninth when Harry Messick doubled in the two Reading runs.

King's home run came with the bases clear in the fourth inning. McCarthy's came in the seventh with Marlon Coughtry on base to clinch the decision.

Julio Guerra, who pitched the first seven innings was the loser for Reading.

SILKY WINS AND GETS OVATION

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—They gave Silky Sullivan something less than a standing ovation when he came onto the track.

But when the race was run, most of the 24,000 horse racing fans were on their feet cheering.

For Silky, the unpredictable, had done it again. Win, that is, with his customary pulse-straining burst of speed down the stretch at Hollywood Park.

In two previous races, the rasical had flopped. His admirers were plainly annoyed. There was hardly a hand clapped as he paraded past the clubhouse, and just a scattering of welcome as he trotted on down past the grandstand.

The race was the $10,000 Monterey Purse at seven furlongs. Aboard was Willie Shoemaker.

As expected, Silky promptly fell back and at one time was some 10 lengths off the pace. Then came the turn for home, with Silky racing wide and wonderfully. He collared the field and won by a length and three-quarters.

President Eisenhower is playing his second round of golf at the Gettysburg Country Club in two days this morning.

Shortly after the Chief Executive arrived at his farm in a helicopter Friday afternoon he was on the golf course for 18 rounds with General Arthur S. Nevin and George Allen. This morning he was back on the course, under a warm sun with Nevins, Allen and Atty. Richard A. Brown.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower will return to The White House Sunday evening.

Big Little League

In a slugfest marked by five homers, the Elks came from behind to defeat the Aero Oil 13-10 Friday evening to protect their unbeaten record in the Big Little League. An eight-run rally in the last of the fourth turned the trick for the Elks who trailed 8-3 at that time.

Two hits, a stolen base and an error gave the Elks two runs in the first inning but Larry Eckert put Aero on top with a three-run homer in the second. Three straight hits enabled the Elks to tie the score in their half of the second.

A pair of two-run homers by Tony Claybaugh and Ken Hull in the third sent Aero to the front again 7-3. Another Aero run came in the fourth.

The Elks then put on their winning rally in the fourth following a disastrous miscue with two out and the bases loaded. Eight runs followed, the big blow being a two-run circuit blast by Curt Mayer.

Aero added a pair in the sixth after loading the bases. An error and Mike Flynn's single accounted for the runs.

Terry Hise slammed a two-run homer for the Elks in the bottom of the sixth to finish the scoring.

Upper Adams
Little League

The Pirates continued their unbeaten streak in the Upper Adams Little League by downing the Phillies 11-6 at Biglerville Friday evening.

J. Shultz was the big gun for the winners with a homerun in the fourth plus a double and single.

Despite their loss, the Phillies played their best game of the season.

Phillies ————— 301 020-6-5-3

Batteries: Pirates — Shultz, Bushey (5) and James; Phillies — Weaver, Brown (3) and Arnsberger.

The Yankees took over possession of second place by coming from behind to upset the Red Sox at Bendersville 15-11.

Much of the scoring resulted from errors. R. Cline and T. Black formed the winning battery.

Score by innings:
Red Sox ————— 432 110-11
Yankees ————— 061 44x-15

A two-run rally after one was out in the final inning gave the Cardinals a come-from-behind 4-3 victory over the Braves at Bendersville.

In the sixth inning a walk to Ketterman and doubles by Hartman and Baker produced the winning tallies. Collins smashed a triple and homerun for the Braves while Hartman and Baker each had a pair of doubles for the Cardinals.

Score by innings:
Braves ————— 200 100-3
Cardinals ————— 200 002-4

Batteries: Braves, Thompson, Wright and Crum; Cardinals, Kane, Ketterman and Ketterman, Baker.

New York (Madison Square Garden) — Florentino Fernandez, 14½, Cuba, stopped Stefan Redl,

THREE CUBANS WIN BOUTS IN GARDEN FRIDAY

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (AP)—The Cubans have landed and the situation is well in hand.

A three-man invasion team from Havana established a beach head Friday night at Madison Square Garden. All three will be back August 7.

The familiar cry of "arriba" that used to greet Kid Gavilan's flurries echoed in the Garden for welterweight Florentino Fernandez and lightweights Carlos Hernandez and Douglas Vaillant. Although Hernandez was born in Caracas, Venezuela, Cuba claims him as its own because he has had all his pro fights in Havana.

Fernandez, the "big boy" of the trio, stopped Stefan Redl, Hungarian-born resident of Passaic, N.J., in 1:07 of the seventh round. Fernandez is a well-packed 144½-pounder with a solid left hook. Redl, stopped for the first time in his 28-bout career, weighed 147 pounds.

Strange Ending
It was a strange ending. Fernandez was winning going away when he planted a left hook on Redl's jaw. Down went Stefan in his own corner. He came up at nine, just beating the 10-count. Referee Harry Ebbets took a look and asked, "Are you all right?" Redl said, "Yes" and then proceeded to walk out with his hands down. Ebbets quickly jumped between the men to stop it.

In his dressing room Redl said he thought the fight was over but claimed he could have continued. All three officials had Fernandez, a 23-year-old unbeaten boxer-puncher, way out front. It was his 20th straight victory and his 16th straight knockout. Judge Joe Agnello had it 6-0, Judge Mike Davodovich 4-2 and Referee Ebbets 5-1. The AP card agreed with Ebbets.

Wins 9th Straight
About 5,000 saw Hernandez, 13½, win his ninth straight by outpointing Luke Easter of Pittsburgh, 136, in eight rounds.

The other Cuban making his U.S. debut was Vaillant, 134½, a lopsided winner over Jimmy Grow of Lewiston, Idaho, 136, in a 10-rounder. Two officials scored it 10-0 and the other had it 8-1-1.

Grow was cut under the left eye and on the bridge of the nose. Vaillant, 21, is unbeaten in 18 pro fights.

Woods Pasture Has Little Forage Value; Quality Of Apples Affected By Light

By FRANK S. ZETTL
Adams County Farm Agent

Work completed at the University of Wisconsin indicates that woods pasture produces very little forage.

Many farmers tend to overrate the value of woods pasture. It is easy to be misled on this point, because grass in the woods may look just as an open grazed field. Cows also like to spend a lot of time in the woods. Here they get lots of shade but little feed.

A five-year average showed that woods pasture produced only 276 pounds of dry matter per acre per year. This is enough grass to feed an 18-cow dairy herd for about half a day. In contrast, untreated pounds of dry forage per acre and well-managed renovated pasture produced up to 7,000 pounds of dry feed per acre.

Cows Damage Trees

Another important factor is the damage cows will do to wood lots. Studies by foresters have shown that growth of timber is severely handicapped.

Thus pasturing wood lots clearly does not offer a means of securing profitable pasture and timber crops from the same land. Instead, it practically insures that neither crop will be good.

One acre of improved renovated pasture will take the place of at least 15 to 20 acres of woods pasture. Treating established open pastures with lime and fertilizer is also much more profitable than grazing woods pasture.

Quality In Apples

Quality in apples means different things to different people, but there are certain things a fruit-grower can do to produce high-quality apples.

Fruit color is one of the major indices of quality for many varieties. Size, shape, flavor, and firmness are also important qualities. Fruit buyers and handlers consider the storage life of an apple to be of paramount importance.

Fruit size is governed by the nitrogen level, crop load, and soil moisture, all things the grower can do something about. Color, firmness of flesh, and flavor, on the other hand, are much affected by the carbohydrate supply, which is synthesized by the leaves in the presence of sunlight. The grower cannot alter the light intensity which governs the rate of photosynthesis, nor the temperature which governs the rate that carbohydrates are lost through plant respiration.

Maintain Balance

Soil moisture, temperature, and sunlight affect fruit quality, but nitrogen and carbohydrates are the most important factors involved, and the problem of the fruit-grower is largely that of maintaining the optimum relationship between them.

To accomplish this apply nitrogen fertilizer early in the season. Avoid excessive amounts. Maintain adequate levels of phosphorus and potassium. When fruit set is excessive, thinning is indicated so that the ratio of leaves to fruit is about 50 to 1.

Do not neglect pruning. Prune every year if at all possible. Also, attempt to develop a small tree, but one that is open with a minimum of shading of the interior. Finally, in dry years, it is well to irrigate, especially with high-value varieties such as delicious and golden delicious.

Cow Comfort Pays

Dairymen should be as considerate of their cows' comfort during hot summer days as they are of their own comfort. A little extra care will help prevent the usual hot weather slump in milk production, and the accompanying reduction of fat content.

The following are practices which will help dairymen realize more profit from their dairy enterprise during the summer:

1 — Provide plenty of shade. If trees are not available a cheap shelter will serve the purpose and pay dividends. On farms where zero grazing is practiced cows will consume more chopped grass if the feed bunks or self-feeding wagons are located in the shade.

2 — Supply cool, clean water at easily reached places. Don't force cows to go long without water. On the average a cow needs 12 to 15 gallons of water a day. In hot weather they may drink as much as 80 per cent more than on cool days.

Feed Good Hay

3 — Feed good hay on pasture all the time, and locate the feed rack out of the sun.

4 — Flies and other tormenting insects cause much irritation and unrest in dairy herds. Follow a good regular spray control program.

5 — Since cows don't graze much during the heat of the day make the best pasture available at night when most of the grazing is done.

6 — In order to provide constant new pasture growth, clip and rotate pastures regularly. If a cow can lie down in comfort and contentment with a full stomach during the hot summer months the efforts to provide that comfort will be well paid.

On The House

By ANDY LANG
The Associated Press

This year, there'll be some changes made.

Three years ago, a group of business men announced plans for a confab between the United States housewife and one of the giants of American industry, home building. The session was called the Women's Housing Congress. The ladies were asked by manufacturers, contractors and home builders to give their ideas on the way houses should be designed, built, operated and serviced.

Pop was asked to do nothing but stay at home and mind the kids while his spouse went to Washington to sound off like a congressman during an election campaign. The hosts and guests at the Women's Housing Congress agreed everything was fine. Delegates passed out ideas by the carload. The industry soaked up the suggestions, promised new houses, new products — and more Women's Housing Congresses.

Adopt Suggestions

For three years, Pop read how Mom and the housing people were planning to let him live. Many of the women's suggestions were put into effect. Plans for houses built in line with the desires of the Women's Housing Congress were drawn up and sold.

It appeared that the ladies would continue indefinitely to dictate how houses should be built and what should go into them. But somebody suddenly discovered that it might be a good idea to cater to the tastes of the man of the house. And so, this year, for the first time, Pop has been invited to attend.

The men will not be at the annual party in Washington merely as a husbands' auxiliary. They will be there on equal status. In fact, this year, the whole thing — to be held September 15-17 — will be known as the Family Conference on Housing instead of the Women's Housing Congress.

Guests In Capital

Husbands and wives from approximately 50 cities throughout the United States will be sent to the capital by the local chapters of the National Assn. of Home Builders. In Washington they will be the guests of a dozen or more industry organizations who originally formed the Women's Housing Congress, Inc., to sponsor the earlier meetings.

As usual, each industry will submit questions to be discussed, this time by members of both sexes. At the moment, the big problem is — should the couples sit at the same table during the talks or should the males be allowed the freedom of speech they often can enjoy only out of earshot of their wives?

Set Dates For Alcoa July Contract Talk

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiations for a new contract between the Aluminum Co. of America and the United Steelworkers will open in New York July 7, it was announced here Thursday. The union represents some 14,000 employees.

The Aluminum Workers International Union, which represents 9,000 Alcoa workers, will open bargaining talks next Wednesday in Pittsburgh. The United Auto Workers, representing 3,000 company workers, has tentatively set its contract talks for July 8 in New York.

The current agreements of the three unions with Alcoa expire July 31.

Rooms _____ Six
Bedrooms _____ Two Closets _____ Six
Cubage _____ 29,900 ft.
Dimensions _____ 54' x 28'

The beautiful large picture window in the living room, the open front piazza, and the glass blocks providing light for the entry hall, are architectural details that will appeal to many prospective home builders for both their practical and decorative values.

Protection for the front entrance is provided by the open porchway. Long and narrow, the entry hall contains a large coat closet in its back wall; a doorway to the front bedroom at the right, and an open archway to the living room at the left.

Living-Dining Room
Spacious in dimensions, 21' x 14'6", the living room is large enough to easily serve as a combination living room and dining room. The large fireplace in the left wall, flanked by built-in bookshelves, shares decorative honors with the lovely picture window in the front wall.

If this room is used as a combination living-dining room, the dining section will have to be located in the rear section of the room where it will be nearest to the kitchen. Even though you'll still find it has ample space for your television set.

Against the right wall, between the doorways, would be an ideal location.

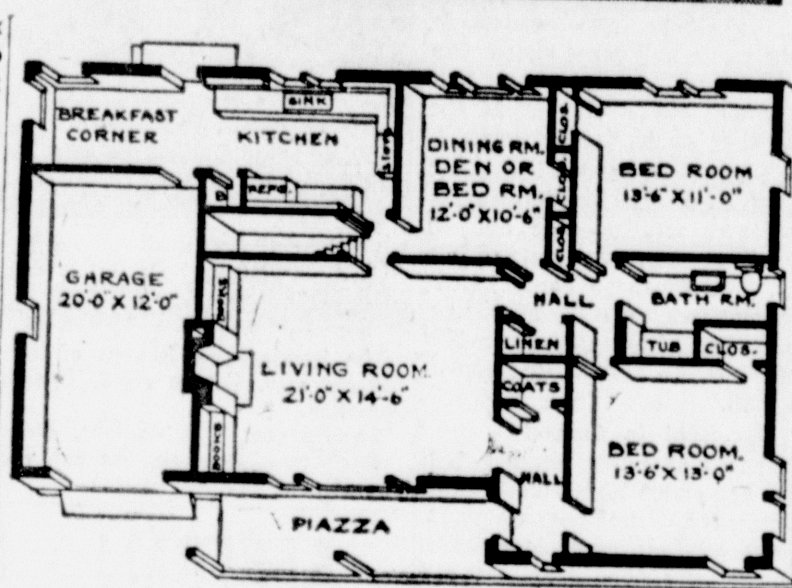

Although it is a sort of connecting link between the passageways leading to the rooms in "The Spokane," the living room is well laid out with all the doors so placed that you don't have to go directly through the center of the room to get from one hallway to another.

Cellar stairs lead down from the tiny hallway leading from the living room to the kitchen and also connecting with the dining room, den or bedroom. Compact and well planned with its wealth of cabinets, cupboards and working counters, the kitchen contains a separate breakfast corner at the left end of the room.

Well lighted by two windows, the breakfast corner will see service all day through. It's an excellent spot to serve family luncheons or to chat over a cup of tea with the next door neighbor. The back or service entry opens off the breakfast corner on to a small stoop leading out to the back yard.

In the kitchen itself the sink is conveniently placed under the double windows in the back wall; the stove is placed against the right wall at the end of the line of working counters. Additional working counters against the front wall and next to the refrigerator, will prove especially useful when you're taking foods out of the refrigerator as well as when you're storing them away. Also located conveniently near to the stove, these counters will come in doubly handy in meal preparation tasks.

Including a room that can be used for any number of purposes is a modern feature of home planning—one that suits the needs of many families. With its one large window flanked by narrower casement windows, in its back wall, the Spokane's dining room (or den or bedroom) is assured of plenty of light and ventilation.

Measuring 12' x 10'6", the room is large enough to serve anyone of its three purposes. The big closet in the center of the right wall will prove especially useful if you decide to use this room as a bedroom either for a member of the family or for guests. If the room is to serve as a dining room this closet area could easily be made into a china closet.

An extra closet, always useful in any home, opens on the connecting hallway just beyond this multi-purpose room. Containing double windows in its back wall plus a single window in the right wall, the back bedroom is assured of cross ventilation as well as plenty of light. The large closet in this 13'6"x7'7" room provides adequate storage space.

All all-modern bath is located between the front and back bedrooms. Containing a tub and shower, this bathroom receives ample light through its one window. The extra-large linen closet, opening on the hallway leading from the living room to the right of the house, is placed so as to be most convenient to the bedrooms and bath.

Designed to serve as the master bedroom, the front bedroom is 13'6"x13' in dimensions. It has two windows in the right wall and a single window in the front wall. An extra large closet was placed in the back wall of this room to provide sufficient storage room for both occupants of this room.

Located at the left end of the house, the garage can be reached through the regular front entrance. Protected entrance to the garage is always a good feature in any home plan for it proves so convenient time and again both in stormy and in sunny weather. Measuring 20'x12', the garage is large enough to provide storage space for garden tools, screens, etc.

The Weeders Guide

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) —

The first tiny tomatoes have just started to form on the window-sill started plants, but it's not a minute too soon to start thinking about fall work in the garden — and next year's annual and perennial beds.

As a matter of fact, this is a pretty good time for most of us to see what's wrong with our garden plan. We usually do pretty well with the early spring bloom and color, and acquire a good basic perennial planting through the years. But in most gardens, there comes an early summer period when our gardens contain mostly green foliage. That is, unless we have bought seedlings to fill in with bloom until our own home-grown ones start producing. It takes extremely meticulous planning — which turned into action months ago — to have a riot of color in the early summer weeks.

Standby Flowers
There are, of course, the good standby flowers found in almost every garden: ageratum, cosmos, hollyhock, verbena, phlox, snapdragons, marigold and zinnia — easy to grow and undemanding as to soil.

But a great deal of the fun of gardening is finding and producing special flowers or special effects. And what they are is the gardener's own personal adventure.

This year, a parsley-loving friend of mine devoted most of her horticultural attention to establishing what she calls her "hors d'oeuvres garden" beside the stone-paved terrace behind her house. It started with a supermarket purchase of a tiny flat of ready-planted parsley seed. The parsley now forms a low border around the slightly raised garden, behind which are such ingredients of hors d'oeuvres as chives, a number of herbs and — center of attention — cherry tomato vines climbing a trellis where the small red berries will be handy for guests to pick.

Miniature Plants
My own particular interest this season has been starting a special bed of miniature plants. Early in the season I transplanted into the border a small dogwood and a Chinese rain tree seedling from a nursery bed. Then I added three miniature rose bushes, a tiny fern and then — when the ground had warmed up — I put in dwarf specimens of some popular annuals. Next year I shall have some dwarf bulbs blooming and some of the tiny glads.

This, of course, isn't a true "minigarden," such as some English gardeners achieve with the help of sunken stone sinks. Mine this year is not in any kind of scale, but it's the beginning of a special gardening interest which already has led me to reading and experimenting with the old Japanese art of dwarfing trees. If it is possible in our climate, I'd like to develop a gill-size replica of a formal garden, complete with tiny hedges and fine gravel walks.

The joy of gardening lies in finding and pursuing such projects — raising the biggest dahlias or the smallest row of box. And no two seasons are ever alike.

Cookless Jam Method For Berries, Peaches Is Easy

By MRS. HELEN TUNISON
Associate Home Economist

Strawberries proved successful for making uncooked jam with fruit pectin in tests by home economists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture as part of research on home utilization of fruit.

This type of jam is very easy to make. A pectin solution is stirred into sweetened crushed fruit and the mixture is ladled into jelly glasses to stand until "set" before sealing and storing in the refrigerator or freezer.

The jam has the flavor and color of the fresh fruit plus an attractive jellied texture that makes it spread well. It keeps in the refrigerator a few months or in the freezer as long as a year, but because it is uncooked, it won't keep on the kitchen shelf. To have the jam at its best, use it promptly after opening the container.

Two points about using this type of jam: If it's too firm when opened for serving, stirring will soften it. If it tends to separate, stirring will blend it again.

Other Fruits

For jam of finest color and flavor, use fully ripe but sound fruit, sorted and washed. Remove caps and stems from berries and peels and pits from peaches. Grind blueberries, but crush other berries or peaches.

To make about 9 six-ounce glasses of jam use 3 cups of crushed fruit. This takes about a quart of blueberries, 1 1/2 to 2 quarts of other berries or 2 1/2 pounds of peaches.

Here's the recipe: Ingredients — 3 cups crushed fruit; 5 cups sugar; 1 packaged powdered pectin; 1 cup water. To make: Add sugar to crushed fruit, mix well and allow to stand 20 minutes with occasional stirring. Dissolve the powdered pectin in the water, bring to a boil and boil 1 minute. Add the pectin solution to the fruit and sugar mixture and stir 2 minutes. Ladle jam into jelly glasses, filling to about a half inch of the rim. Cover and let stand until jellied (may take 24 to 48 hours). Then seal with hot paraffin and cover with metal lid. Put in freezer or refrigerator promptly.

For Hot Weather

When summer temperatures wilt even he-man appetites, a fresh fruit salad can be your best bet to provide the necessary enticement — and nutrition. But summer temperatures can damage delicate fruits too — just when eye-appeal is so important. To keep fruit from discoloring, food scientists have come up with an ascorbic-citric-mixture, a citric acid mixture that is an effective anti-oxidant. Just mix 1/2 or 3/4 teaspoon of the anti-oxidant per cup of sugar used (or mix with water) and see that all fruit surfaces are coated. No last minute rush — fruit can be cut hours ahead of serving time.

Lemon juice is effective, too but the new mixtures are worth trying.

EX-GOV. FINE GIVES VERSION OF '54 PARDON

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Former Gov. John S. Fine says he did not back date a pardon granted reputed Pittsburgh racketeer John LaRocca. He says he signed it and then withheld it until he received a personal report on LaRocca.

Furthermore, Fine said Thursday night, he personally did not put the effective date on the pardon. The former Republican chief executive said that was a clerical matter handled by someone else.

A U.S. Senate Rackets Committee investigator charged last week that a government deportation proceeding against LaRocca was undermined by the pardon granted LaRocca in 1954. He said the pardon was granted Dec. 27, 1954, but was dated May 19, 1954.

State Rep. Thomas McCormack (D-Phila.) Wednesday proposed a formal investigation by the Pennsylvania Legislature. He said Fine "should be given the opportunity of refuting said unfavorable inference and informing the citizens of this Commonwealth as to the reasons for his conduct in this case."

Fine answered by issuing an 800 word statement. It said "the LaRocca case, when stripped of its Apalachin stigma, rises no higher than a tempest in a teapot." He referred to LaRocca's alleged attendance at the Apalachin, N. Y., crime convention in November, 1957.

Fine said his recollection of the whole matter was made somewhat hazy by the passing years and he relied heavily on records and conversations with other officials involved in the case.

Reviews Case

LaRocca was convicted in 1939 in Pittsburgh on a charge of larceny and receiving stolen goods. He got a suspended sentence and was fined $100. The specific complaint was stealing license plates.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service subsequently started proceedings to deport LaRocca because of his alleged racket connections and because he was not a citizen of the United States.

Faced with deportation on a moral turpitude charge, he applied for a pardon in January, 1953.

Fine said that at the request of the federal Justice Department he rejected this request for a pardon. It was the second pardon granted by the board to which he affixed his signature, Fine said.

The second plea by LaRocca was in June 1953. When the matter was sent to Fine he didn't act on it at once because of the press of legislative matters. Then, in September or October,

Flying Bank Robber Is Humble In Sentence Court

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—On the eve of his entry into prison, flying bank robber Frank Sprenz gave a hint of what life was like during the months when, all alone, he matched wits with scores of law officers trying to track him down. He warned anyone following his example to "be prepared for three very close companions I've had—fear, loneliness, and regret."

The 29-year-old Sprenz, a master of deception whose escapades won him a place on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted men, appeared humble and contrite before

Frondizi Charges Revolutionary Plot

By ROMAN JIMENEZ

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Arturo Frondizi's government charged today it is the target of a revolutionary plot. Unconfirmed reports spread that a military revolt already is under way in the interior.

Angry officers were reported collecting at Cordoba, 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires. Leaders of the Coroba military garrison have been openly opposing government policies since Tuesday.

Police swept through the capital with orders to arrest top generals and admirals, many of them leaders of the provisional military government that steered Argentina back to civilian rule after the armed forces had overthrown the dictator, Juan D. Peron, in 1955.

Many of those sought were said to have fled.

BONN, Germany (AP)—Ludwig Erhard threatened Friday to resign as West Germany's economics minister. He spoke at a caucus of the Christian Democrat party called to discuss the aftermath of Konrad Adenauer's decision to stay on as a chancellor, a job for which Erhard had been bidding.

er, the statement continued, Fine learned the Pardon Board had given unanimous approval for a pardon. He also learned that Superior Court Judge Robert E. Woodside, then attorney general, had not signed the Pardon Board recommendations because of some information given him.

"For this and for other reasons I initiated my own investigation," the statement continued. "The report of this investigation confirmed xxx the report of the investigator of the board of parole that LaRocca had a good reputation xxx."

"I have no distinct recollection when I signed the pardon and must, therefore, rely on records, to wit, May 19, 1954."

Judge William H. Victor Thursday.

He said he had been selfish. "My parents—very good people—are now ashamed to walk down the street," he said before the Summit County Common Pleas judge sentenced him on six charges. Sprenz had pleaded guilty.

Sprenz is one of two sons of an Akron couple who both work. The other brother, Lawrence, likewise has a police record and has served time in the state penitentiary for carrying concealed weapons.

Sentenced On Six Counts

Judge Victor sentenced him to terms ranging from 1-5 years to 10-25 years on three counts of car theft, two counts of armed robbery, and one count of breaking out of Summit County Jail. All sentences are to run concurrently with other state sentences Sprenz drew at Hamilton, Ohio, where he robbed a bank of $25,955 last March, escaping in a stolen plane. Sprenz broke out of jail here April 16, 1958. FBI efforts to catch him, stepped up when he stole a plane at Toronto, were intensified after the bank robbery. Sprenz was captured in Mexico April 13 after a plane he was using cracked up.

How to DOUBLE your corn returns—without extra land

One acre of your corn can equal two when you own an Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester. Here's how —

From one acre, quality silage cut on time with your own machine will produce twice as much beef gain as will ear corn (University of Illinois report).

Cut-and-throw chopping action of 3-foot-wide cylinder on an Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester gives you quality-cut forage... makes possible a light-running machine that chops extra tonnage without extra power.

Built-in knife sharpener and stone-stopper safety clutch save field time and protect cylinder. Attachments for row crops, grass, hay or bedding.

Louisiana Leader's Can't Decide Who Is Governor

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Louisiana officials were at loggerheads today as to who was the state's chief executive since Gov. Earl Long indicated he may be plotting another court battle to free himself from court-ordered treatment in a mental hospital.

Gov. L. B. Broussard, a friend of the 63-year-old ailing governor, said he wants legal advice before formally taking over as acting governor. Secretary of State W. Martin Jr., a political enemy of Long, said he would continue to recognize Long as governor. He challenged Broussard's right to take over without formal certification of Long's inability to act.

"Governor Long has been irresponsible for some time but there has been no legal declaration of that," Martin said.

Asks Legal Counsel

Long called for legal counsel from his ward at the Southeast Louisiana Hospital at Mandeville, 54 miles to the east of this capital city where he and his brother, the late Huey P. Long, began thriving on peppy politics in the 1920s. State police and sheriff's deputies overpowered the cursing, fighting governor Thursday night and rushed him to Mandeville. A physician and a psychiatrist said he suffered from paranoid schizophrenia—delusions of persecution.

Long had just skipped out on an agreement for voluntary treatment in New Orleans. The agreement had nullified a Texas court fight by effecting his Wednesday release from a Galveston psychiatric clinic. He had been held in the clinic 19 days by court order.

Will Challenge Frazier

Martin said he would challenge Frazier in court if the 54-year-old former president of McNeese

State College attempted to act as governor.

Frazier said he would not shirk his duty if an emergency developed. But he wants legal advice before formally taking over.

Atty. Gen. Jack Gremlion said Frazier could take over. Martin disagreed, saying the court order that sent Long to Mandeville did not declare the governor's inability to act. Long himself or some official body, Martin said, first must certify Long's inability.

Frazier named Gremlion as one of his attorneys.

Martin was ousted by Long in 1956 as state insurance commissioner and custodian of voting machines. Since then the two have been bitter enemies.

Long's request for legal aid was announced by Jesse Bankston, state director of hospitals.

"Louisiana mental health laws give the patient certain legal rights and privileges," he said. There was no comment from Mrs. Long, who sanctioned the commitment papers both at Galveston and Mandeville.

1 KILLED, FOUR HURT IN CRASH

KINGSVILLE, Md. (AP)—Two autos collided on rain-slick U. S. Route 1 Friday night, killing a Downingtown, Pa., woman and injuring five other persons.

The dead woman was Mrs. Teresa Talucci, about 50, (551 Lincoln Ave.) a passenger in a car driven by her son-in-law, Floyd D'Ginto, 24, also of (321 Green St.) Downingtown. Police said his car, heading north, spun halfway around on the slippery road and was struck by the other car.

D'Ginto's wife, Amelia, was treated for minor injuries at Johns Hopkins Hospital, as was Josephine Talucci, 17 (511 Lincoln Ave.), and Mrs. Eleanor Toto, 25, her sister, also of Downingtown, who was listed in fair condition at the hospital.

The driver of the other car was Roland V. Zitzer of Parkville, Md. His wife and daughter, riding with him, were hurt slightly. Technical charges of manslaughter and reckless driving were lodged against both drivers.

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—The nonwhite townships of Cato Manor and Chesterville were reported quiet Friday morning after a night of riots and arson in which three Africans were killed. Strong police patrols remain in the area.

The Africans were killed after rioters attacked a police picket in Cato Manor. Police used rifles and machine guns against the rioting Negroes. About 30 Africans were hospitalized. Three policemen were injured.

FRONDIZI STILL PRESIDENT BUT REGIME SHAKES

By BRIAN BELL

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Arturo Frondizi remains president of Argentina after surmounting—at least temporarily—the gravest crisis of his 14-month administration.

But the price he paid remains to be seen.

Following waves of tension touched off by military plotters, a meeting of top army brass Friday night voted confidence in the president's war ministry.

Frondizi, grim faced and tired, met newsmen to say he was still performing his presidential duties. But he did not indicate what concession he made the militarists for their support.

Face Sedition Charges

Announcement also was made that two alleged leaders of the plot had agreed to submit to detention on sedition charges.

They were Rear Adm. Arturo Rial, hero of the revolution that overthrew ex-dictator Juan Peron, and retired Lt. Gen. Arturo Ossorio Arana. The government ordered their arrest Wednesday, but security forces had been unable to find them.

Informed sources said Rial and Ossorio Arana led a military group that felt Frondizi had not dealt severely enough with Peron backers. They were said to have demanded the ouster of all government officials with Peronist sympathies against labor leaders who have called countless strikes that plague the national economy.

Many Are Reds

Many union leaders are Peronists or Communists.

Despite recent government concessions, the anti-Peronist militarists, known as "gorillas," presumably were not satisfied. But in a showdown, apparently could not convince their fellow officers of the necessity of booting Frondizi.

The majority of influential militarists are pictured as extremely reluctant to abolish the constitutional government they fought to establish.

SMALL FIELD IN STATE GOLF

HARRISBURG (AP)—Match play was scheduled as the Central Pennsylvania Men's Amateur Golf tournament entered its third day at Harrisburg's Country Club today.

Spectators kept an eye on Ken Rohrbaugh, the defending champion from York, and Ronnie Leo, a seasoned competitor from Harrisburg, who paced the field in two days of qualifying tests.

Lee, playing out of the Capital City's Colonial Country Club, shot an even par 71 on the 6,234-yard layout Friday. On opening day, Rohrbaugh had a 73 in the 18-hole qualifier.

Close behind Leo was Earl R. Mumma, the Harrisburg district champion from Colonial, who had a 36-36-72.

Thirty-eight players—smallest field in tournament history—competed in the qualifying round. A score of 80 was needed to get into the 16-man championship flight.

First and second round match play was scheduled today with the semifinals and championship set for Sunday.

Hear Arguments On Sunday Blue Laws

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A special three-judge federal court will hear arguments on the constitutionality of Pennsylvania blue laws banning Sunday sales.

A notice of the court's appointment was received at the federal courthouse here Friday from Chief Judge John Biggs Jr. of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, in Philadelphia.

He named to the panel Judge William Hastie of the Circuit Court and U. S. District Judges John W. Murphy and Frederick Folmer. This special court will organize at its convenience and set a date and place for the arguments.

REDS PUT ON PRESSURE FOR SUMMIT MEET

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

GENEVA (AP)—A new Soviet drive for the summit was forecast by Western officials today after the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers to end the East-West deadlock on Berlin. The ministers agreed to break off their talks for three weeks.

A new period of mounting tension in the Berlin crisis was foreseen, specially since West Germany has decided to hold an assembly to elect its new president in West Berlin on July 1.

The Communists, who are trying to force the Western allies out of West Berlin, have assailed this West German meeting as a provocative act in the city 10 miles inside Communist East Germany.

Washington Discussion

Soviet informants said they expect major East-West issues to be discussed in Washington early next month by Soviet Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov and U.S. officials.

One Soviet diplomat said Kozlov will take a message from Khrushchev to President Eisenhower when he leaves Moscow to open the Soviet exhibition in New York.

Later in the month Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be going to Moscow to open an American exhibition there. Presumably he will meet with Khrushchev.

Woman Dies Of Suffocation

READING, Pa. (AP)—Fire broke out in an apartment building here early today, killing a 54-year-old woman and driving 13 other persons from their homes.

Dead was Mrs. Leroy Borkert, a third floor tenant, who was pronounced dead of suffocation at St. Joseph's Hospital. Her husband came home at the height of the blaze and met firemen carrying his wife from the building.

Mrs. Robert Shull, who lives on the second floor, was hospitalized for treatment of smoke inhalation. The fire was discovered by her husband, who aroused other residents of the building.

Assistant Fire Chief Russell P. Mogel said the fire started beneath the floor on the third story and spread through the walls of the building. There was no immediate estimate of the damage nor has the cause of the fire been determined.

Men who give in if wrong are wise; men who give in if right are married.

RIISING COSTS PUSH PAPERSTO BOOST PRICES

NEW YORK (AP)—Rising costs have caused hundreds of newspapers to raise their prices in recent years—87 in the first four months of this year alone.

Some 400 increased prices in one or more circulation categories in 1958.

In announcing the new prices, the newspapers have cited increased costs of newsprint, wages, fringe benefits and various materials and services.

The trend is to more 7-cent and 10-cent papers.

A survey of more than 1,700 newspapers by the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. shows 463 now selling at 7 cents and 170 at 10 cents. Forty-nine cost six cents and eight of them eight cents.

Few Low Prices

The increases have diminished the number still selling for five cents to 991—and in the whole United States only 13 still sell for less than a nickel.

The day of the two-cent paper of childhood memory is gone. The last to sell at that price was the Hanover, Pa., Sun which went to five cents last September. Five sell for three cents and eight for four cents.

The newspapers, in raising prices, have stressed particularly their higher costs for newsprint. Higher wages and general business costs such as telephones and wires are among other factors cited.

The ANPA figures show that 165 newspapers have increased their price to 10 cents and 471 to 7 cents in the past 10 years while the number selling for 5 cents has dropped by 327.

Ten-Year Chart

The following chart, showing prices and number of newspapers charging them, reflects the change in the past decade:

	1949	1959
10 cents	170	5
8 cents	8	0
7 cents	483	12
6 cents	483	12
5 cents	991	1,518
4 cents	8	119
3 cents	4	91
2 cents	0	10

Additionally, three dailies sell for 15 cents—two in Alaska and the Journal of Commerce in New York.

AUSSIE YOUTH LEADS GOLFERS

MONTREAL (AP)—Bruce Crampton, a good looking 23-year-old Australian, led the way into the third round of the Canadian Open today.

His two-day total of 135, nine under par for the Islesmere course, left him with only a one-stroke margin over three top pros from the United States. A half dozen others were within shooting range of the lead.

"I was putting quite well today and I was driving well," Crampton said Friday after shooting a nifty 67 to take the tournament lead.

One stroke back at 136 as the 100 survivors went into the third round were Art Wall Jr., of Pocomo Manor, Pa., PGA Champion Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., and Bob Rosburg of Palo Alto, Calif.

cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. The taffeta cummerbund and embroidery on the bodice and around the skirt were in pink. She wore a matching head piece and carried a white satin fan with an arrangement of pink sweetheart roses, blue delphinium and baby's-breath.

The bridesmaids were: Mrs. Richard P. Roy, Gettysburg, cousin of the groom; Miss Patsy Eskep, Miss Nancy Budd, and Miss Sharon Sponseller, all of New Oxford, classmates of the bride. They were attired in identical dresses to that of the matron of honor with the exception of mint green cummerbunds and mint green embroidery with matching head pieces. They carried white satin fans with arrangements of pink carnations, ivy and baby's-breath.

Joel Vittori, Salem, N. J., a classmate of the groom, served as best man. The ushers were Kenneth James, Glen Rock, Pa., cousin of the bride, Richard P. Roy, Gettysburg, cousin of the groom; Donald O'Brien, New Oxford, and Robert Small, Hanover, friends of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a pure silk beige dress with matching accessories and a corsage of talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress trimmed in pink satin with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and blue delphinium.

Deborah K. Zinn, New Oxford, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. She wore a white dress and a small head piece of ivy and pink sweetheart roses and carried a white princess basket of assorted spring flowers. The ring bearer was Edward R. Zinn, New Oxford, cousin of the bride. He wore a white coat and dark trousers and carried a white satin pillow bearing the rings.

Reception Is Held

Mr. and Mrs. Clair S. Slagle, New Oxford, are the maternal grandparents with whom the bride resided while attending high school.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Xavier Hall. Following the reception the couple left on a honeymoon to an unannounced destination. Upon their return they will reside at 38 Carlisle St.

The bride chose as her going away outfit a black and white cotton dress with white accessories and a white corsage.

The bride graduated from New Oxford High School in May. The groom graduated from Delone Catholic High School in 1954 and attended King's College, Wilkes-Barre. He is presently employed as office manager at the Simpson Machine and Welding Company.

Out-of-town guests were from Baltimore, New Jersey, New York, Wilkes-Barre, Hanover, and York.

In its earlier years Detroit was proclaimed as "the Constant-nople of the Western World."

3 Defendants Win Directed Verdicts

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Three men among 17 charged with conspiracy in the operation of an illegal liquor still at Reading, Pa., have won directed verdicts of acquittal.

U. S. District Judge Thomas J. Clary ordered the verdicts Friday for Ignatius Esposito, 48, and Albert DiMichele, 34, both of Philadelphia. Earlier in the week Clary had directed a similar verdict for Joseph Melillo, of Newark, N. J.

No testimony was presented to link Esposito or DiMichele with the huge still and two witnesses scheduled to have been called on Friday were withheld after Clary ruled the type of testimony they would give would be inadmissible as evidence.

ding Prayer." Mrs. Segal played "The Swedish Wedding March" for the processional and Mendelssohn's march for the recessional.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full-length gown designed with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace fashioned with a stand-up collar, and long pointed sleeves that came to a point over the hands. The full bouffant skirt of antique Duphone silk was appliqued with lace and ended in a chapel train and was worn over a hoop. Her three-tiered veil of illusion was attached to a beaddress of lace trimmed with crystalline. She carried an old-fashioned arm bouquet of red roses centered with a white rosebud corsage.

Three Bridesmaids

Mrs. Charles W. Caskey, of Spring Grove, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of white brocade nylon over pale green taffeta with rounded neckline and cap sleeves, trimmed with a large green taffeta bow with long streamers. She wore a matching headpiece and short white gloves and carried a colonial bouquet.

The bridesmaids were Miss Laura Lee Martin, of Fairfield, sister of the bride; Mrs. Edward Spence, of Fairfield, and Miss Ann Deardorff, of Arendtsville. Their dresses were fashioned after the matron of honor's with Miss Martin attired in aqua, Mrs.

The bride's mother was attired in a medium blue dress of silk crepe, white accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

The groom's mother wore a dachon mint green dress, pink accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Ken Bechtel, of Reading, nephew of the groom, was the ring bearer. Serving as flower girls were Miss Deborah Straup, of Fairfield, and Miss Cindy Bechtel, of Reading, niece of the groom. They wore lavender and blue dresses with white lace trim, large satin bows, matching headpieces, white gloves and carried baskets of mixed flowers.

Reception Is Held

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride after which the couple left for a two-week honeymoon in New York state and Canada.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a powder blue summer wool suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of white rosebuds. Upon their return, the couple will reside at 227 Carlisle St., Gettysburg.

The bride graduated from Fairfield High School with the class of 1956 and from the Philadelphia Modeling and Charm School. She is employed in the office of the Fairfield Joint High School.

The groom graduated from the Reading High School in 1949 and served a year in the United States Air Force. He graduated from Millersville State Teachers College in 1957 with a B.S. degree in Industrial Arts. He is a member of the faculty of the Fairfield Joint High School in the industrial arts department.

Out-of-town guests were present from Gettysburg, Biglerville, Spring Grove, Lansdale, New York, Reading, State College, Lancaster, Waynesboro, Ephrata, Newfoundland, Philadelphia, New Oxford, Arendtsville and Virginia.

Of course it's disturbing

But what a relief and satisfaction when it's done

"Some other time," we say, as somehow we hate to face one of life's most important decisions—the choice of a family cemetery lot and a monument of granite or marble that will mark it for eternity.

But how sensible to choose it now!

Then this family matter will be a family decision. Everyone concerned can have his say. A monument can be erected and the lot landscaped with unhurried care. And, by arranging payments in advance, financial burdens will never fall on survivors when they can least afford it. What a great relief for just a little forethought.

LEGAL NOTICES NOTICE Sealed bids will be received by the Board of School Directors of Franklin Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, at Franklin Township Consolidated School near Cashtown until 8:00 o'clock p.m., June 29, 1959, at which time and place they will be publicly opened. The bids shall be for the following labor and materials: Three thousand (3,000) square yards, more or less, of CIP topping in place; or any interest therein, situate wholly or partly in Union Township, at the rate of one percentum (1%) of the value of the property or interest therein transferred, under and pursuant to the provisions of the Act of the General Assembly, approved June 25, 1947, as amended (P.L. 1145). The reason which, in the judgment of the said Board of School Directors, necessitates the imposition of the tax is the need for additional revenue for proper and efficient operation of the school system of said Borough, and the maintenance of its school facilities. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from the tax is $2,500.00 annually. BOARD OF SCHOOL DIRECTORS OF THE BOROUGH OF LITTLESTOWN By Luther W. STRAUSS VETO ALARMS GROUP IN DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The historic Senate vote of no confidence in Lewis L. Strauss has given a new jolt to a Commerce Department high command already beset by uncertainty.

The 49-46 Senate vote rejecting Strauss as secretary of commerce came as the secretary's office faced a prospect of personnel cuts by Congress.

High officials said 51 employees out of a total of about 300 in the secretary's office have been put on notice that their jobs may be abolished on June 30. These notices went out after the House voted to cut $440,000 from the $2,940,000 President Eisenhower asked for running the office.

Restore $260,000

Earlier this week the Senate Appropriations Committee voted to restore $260,000 but the question is still up in the air, but even so, some 25 employees would have to be fired.

There was speculation that with Strauss on his way out the House might now be willing to provide more salary money. But it was unlikely the amount finally voted would exceed the Senate figure.

Many Senators felt that Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) furnished the vital momentum that brought rejection of Strauss' appointment.

Support Deal Seen

Johnson had kept his position on Strauss a secret until the final hours of the months-long nomination battle. Then, Senate participants said, he went all out to line up the vote against him.

Some of Johnson's colleagues professed to see in this what amounted to an exchange of Strauss' political scalp for less Democratic opposition to Johnson's policy of trimming spending bills to avoid presidential vetoes.

HEALTH PLANS BOOST RATES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Two of Pennsylvania's largest hospitalization plans will enact rate increases totaling 21 million dollars a year on Aug. 1 for subscribers in the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia areas.

The boosts were approved Friday by Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith for the Hospital Service Assn. of Western Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh, and the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia.

Smith accepted the rate applications by the two groups without change. The Western Pennsylvania organization sought increases ranging from 29.8 per cent to 33.3 per cent for its various plans.

The Philadelphia plan proposed a 23 per cent across-the-board boost in all of its policies.

The increases will produce some 12 million dollars in additional annual revenue for the Pittsburgh organization and some 9 millions for the Philadelphia plan.

Smith made no decision on increases proposed by two other regional plans—Capital Hospital Service, Harrisburg, and the Hospital Service Assn. of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Wilkes-Barre.

Seek 1,200 Contributions

"The very minimum we should achieve 1,000 to 1,200 in individual contribution in Gettysburg and Adams County. Just think what an example this will set for the alumni and other areas in which the $1,600,000 campaign will be conducted later.

"The special gifts originating in the county have been most highly gratifying and there will be more of them. The fact remains, however, that participation is more than a contribution to Gettysburg College. Every single contribution strikes a blow for private education as against the only alternative which is government controlled education.

"On the basis of results achieved so far, we have every reason to believe that Adams County will establish a proud record, numerically as well as moneywise."

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A gangling high school youth stabbed his stepfather Friday night, then sought unsuccessfully to keep the wounded man alive by breathing into his throat.

Gerald Owen Johnson, 17, said he stabbed Robert Griswold, 46, when the stepfather refused to heed his pleas to stop beating him and his mother. No charges were filed immediately.

The mother, Jewel Fay Griswold, 46, collapsed.

MISS NEIDERER

Strasbaugh and Mrs. Ramon Neiderer, cousin and sister-in-law, respectively, of the bride, both of Gettysburg R. 5, wore aqua and yellow gowns similar to that of the maid of honor. Miss Cecilia Chrimer, junior bridesmaid and cousin of the bride, wore a full-length gown of white nylon lace over blue satin and a blue velvet headpiece with a circular veil. She carried a small bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bride's mother wore a pink nylon dress with white accessories and a white rosebud corsage. The groom's mother chose a beige dress with navy accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Serve Wedding Breakfast

John Melhorn, Hanover, a friend of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Ramon Neiderer and James Strasbaugh, both of Gettysburg R. 5.

The church was decorated with mixed summer flowers. Mrs. Bernard Walter, organist, played traditional wedding marches. The choir sang "Panis Angelicus," "Lord Who at Cana's Wedding" and "Ave Maria."

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Neiderer. A reception will be held this evening at 7 o'clock in the Bonneville Fire Co. hall.

For travel the bride chose a green sheath dress with white accessories and a rosebud corsage. The couple's wedding trip destination was not announced.

The bride attended Delone Catholic High School, McSherrystown, and is employed by the Sylvania Manufacturing Co., McSherrystown. The groom also attended Delone and is employed by the Hanover Canning Co.

THE FOUR CORNERS

By EDWARD COLLIER

Monument Valley, seen but by few Americans, is the ultimate in scenic splendor.

Here earth and sky merge in a blaze of red and vivid blue. At dawn the sheer sandstone monoliths and pinnacles that tower up from the flat valley floor are bathed in rosy aura and seem to blend into eternity. As the sun climbs high, the buttes take on an angry fire. Sunset brings purple majesty.

This is the prize of a Magic Circle trip around the Four Corners wonderland, where Utah, Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico meet at one common point. Elsewhere in this awesome wilderness home of the Navajos, the capriciousness of nature and the passage of centuries are recorded in flamboyant natural bridges, cliff dwellings of ancient Indian cultures, color canyons that have been eroding since the beginning of time.

Uranium Is Found

The impetus that suddenly has brought good roads to open up this mysterious Four Corners land started with the finding of uranium; now extensive oil and natural gas discoveries, plus development of vast irrigation projects, are electrifying the area.

We started our Magic Circle tour of the Four Corners—with Monument Valley as the exciting major objective—from Farmington, New Mexico. Not long ago this was a quiet farming community. In 1959 it is a boom town, where stunning buildings of ultramodern or Pueblo Indian design seem to be racing each other to completion. Wide divided streets are being carved out of fields so rapidly that last summer I saw temporary signs, such as "New Car Boulevard," painted on pieces of wood and hung by wires from the lamp standards in the center traffic islands. The handsome new plant of the Daily Times had to be doubled in size after but 18 months.

Colorful Street Scene

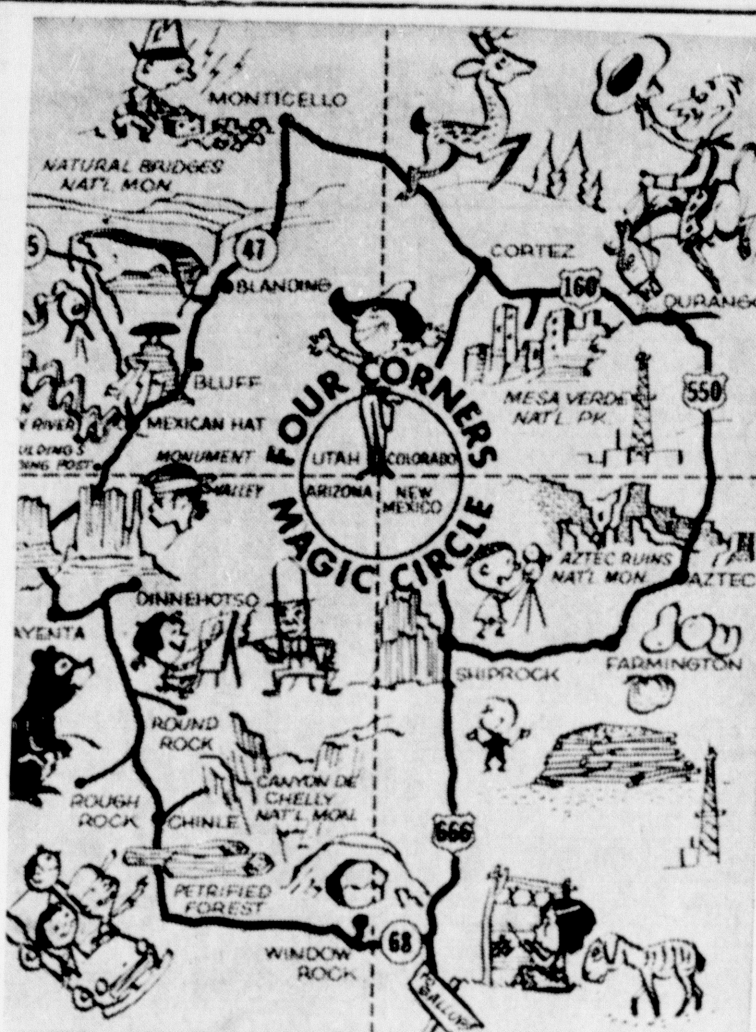

The street scene in Farmington is representative of the dynamic economy of this new-old country: eastern businessmen, attaché cases in hand, rub shoulders with cowpunchers; yellow-helmeted men from the area's oil and natural gas fields are part of the crowd that includes Indian women from the nearby reservations, strolling down the sidewalks clothed in dignity and the traditional high-necked velvet jackets and long, swirling, ballroom-length skirts of bright purple, green, red or blue satin.

Plan to leave Farmington in the early morning while the light is still soft on the lush green farming valley of the San Juan River, couched between desert hills. Occasionally, as you drive westward (U.S. 550) along the ribbon of boulevard-like highway, you will glimpse gleaming new oil storage tanks or the giant pipe of a natural gas line that account for the new prosperity. It's not uncommon to see an Indian girl in a bright red and purple dress sitting motionless on top of a buff-colored hillcock and watching the automobiles rush by.

Always looming in the distance is Shiprock, sentinel of the Four Corners, that for centuries has been sacred to the Navajos and a guiding beacon to the Spanish pioneers—now the uranium hunters, oil explorers, tourists.

Fantasy Land

There is a thrill of identification when you first see Shiprock, sometimes purple, other times orange, depending on the sun. The feeling comes not only from remembered photographs of the mountain that rises 1,640 feet up from the desert shelf, but also from the deeply imbedded Indian legend that this was the great ship that brought their ancestors to America and then turned to stone.

Fine new highways have opened up the scenic Four Corners wonderland. Highlights are Monument Valley, Mesa Verde National Park and its famed cliff dwellings, Shiprock, the Great Goose Neck of the San Juan River, three national monuments, colorful Indian trading posts. Uranium, oil and natural gas have brought prosperity to this homeland of the Navajos, and boom-town growth to Farmington and Aztec in New Mexico and Durango and Cortez in Colorado.

At the little town of Shiprock you turn north (U.S. 666) past the beautiful and utilitarian boarding school campus for Navajo children. Every mile of the gun-barrel highway across the state line and into Colorado brings vistas of unbelievable rock shapes and formations—panoramas of ever-different silhouettes. The clear desert air completely unbridles your imagination.

You identify far-distant buttes (that trick you into thinking they are close at hand): giant teapots, chimneys, turreted castles, exotic moonscapes, goblins, mammoth ant hills and fortresses of the gods.

Display In Cortez

The affluence of the Four Corners area again is on display in Cortez, Colorado, once a sleepy little village that motorists drove through on their way to Mesa Verde National Park. Today Cortez is having severe growing pains. Construction is under way all over town on new buildings, motels with swimming pools, wide streets, residential areas and modern schools.

The Magic Circle curves west (U.S. 160) from Cortez to the Utah state line through a photogenic farming empire. Gentle rolling fields are broken by a few arroyos, the rich red soil contrasting with the green rows of corn, sugar beets, pinto beans and the yellow squares where winter wheat has ripened. Interspersed between these ranches are stately juniper trees and clumps of gray-green sagebrush growing to a prodigious size.

At Monticello, where the uranium discovery excitement is just now subsiding, you turn south (Utah 47) Your first thrilling view of the spires and minarets of Monument Valley—70 miles to the south—can be seen shortly after leaving Blanding, a relaxed and friendly town where frequent informal rodeos are held in a juniper-bordered pasture.

South from Blanding the hard-Charted No. 156 Reserve District No. 3 Report of Condition of the FIRST NATIONAL BANK of York Springs, Pa., at the close of business on June 10, 1959. Published in response to call made by Comptroller of the Currency, under Section 5211, U. S. Revised Statutes.

Correct—Attest: GUY E. BREAN, W. M. E. FLICKINGER, M. D. C. F. DITZLER, Directors

State of Pennsylvania, County of Adams, ss: Sworn to and subscribed before me this 17th day of June, 1959, and I hereby certify that I am not an officer or director of this bank.

F. E. COULSON, Justice of the Peace

My commission expires January, 1960

south from Kayenta over Marsh Pass and through Rough Rock, which is practically impassable. Instead, turn east at Kayenta, and just before reaching Dinnehotso, a good graded new road turns south for Chinle, gateway to the Monument.

The first view of Canyon de Chelly will forever remain etched on your memory. From a mesa covered by scrawny pinion trees, the sheer sandstone precipice drops straight down for a thousand feet to the flat floor of the chasm, marked by green patches where Navajos farm in the summer. Black tendrils streak the red walls in many places, as if huge vats of oil had been dumped over the edges of the cliffs. In spring, the bottom of the canyon is splashed by the pink of blooming peach trees; in fall the gold and crimson foliage adds to the startling effect.

This is the ancestral stronghold of the Navajo tribe: before them pueblo cliff-dweller Indians built their abodes in shallow caves or apertures in the sides of the canyon walls. Most striking of these is White House Ruin, so named because one side of this structure was plastered with white clay. Four different overlook points provide thrilling views down into the gorge.

The National Park Service maintains an attractive picnic campground at Canyon de Chelly. There also is a little cafe. Guest accommodations are excellent but limited at Thunderbird Ranch, where auto and pack trips with Indian guides can be scheduled into the canyon.

The roads south from Chinle and then east to the New Mexico state line have been newly blazed. There is a rewarding three-mile side trip here to Window Rock, Navajo state of government. Here the tribal leaders meet in a well-appointed eight-sided building; their discussions and decisions are carried by short-wave radio to their people throughout the Four Corners country. The beautiful and imaginative rugs and the fine silver and turquoise jewelry for which the Navajos are famous are on sale in the crafts building.

From Window Rock it is only a few miles south to Gallup on transcontinental U.S. 66, which will take you to Arizona or California to the west, or to Albuquerque, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, St. Louis to the east.

With the recent advent of good roads into the Four Corners country, there are now other interesting routes by which you can reach Monument Valley, as shown on the Magic Circle map.

See Cliff Dwellings

For years only Mesa Verde National Park was well known and accessible. Thousands flocked here each year to see the magnificent and well-preserved cliff dwellings of a race that disappeared without trace some 700 years ago. Such ruins as Cliff Palace and Spruce Tree House, tucked into walls of arroyos that gash the top of the high pinion-studded mesa, continue to be top attractions. As you drive along the perfectly-engineered highway that leads to the park headquarters, museum and lodges, you have frequent and breathtaking panoramas of multi-hued Montezuma Valley, 2,000 feet below, a rich farming empire with the blue La Sal Mountains in Utah as a backdrop.

Best of the original gateways to Mesa Verde was Durango, Colorado. This attractive little city is today becoming like Farmington. The dynamic prosperity is on display with its spectacular golf course that overlooks the city and a big new municipal swimming pool, both designed for tourist use. On another mesa top above Durango is the brand new Fort Lewis A & M College campus, a modern symphony of native stone, bright panels and walls of rich color, wide expanses of glass to offer the student scenic inspiration. The lid is pried off the first week in August at the annual Spanish Trails Fiesta, highlighted by a big-time rodeo, Indians, parades and square dancing.

This Magic Circle route turns south across the New Mexico line to the once quiet, isolated town of Aztec, now part of the oil and natural gas area. Just outside of town on the road to Farmington is Aztec Ruins National Monument, a fascinating study of the architecture of the ancient pueblo Indians. Largest of the excavated ruins is a three-story, 500-room structure which was built in stages, beginning around the year 1106. Most fascinating to me, as it was to the rest of the visitors, was the Great Kiva, a moody, dark, semi-underground ceremonial chamber 48 feet in diameter which has been completely restored.

Tops among the side trips that you should take if time allows, is a 77-mile circle tour that leads off the Monument Valley Road (Utah 47) just below the town of Blanding, to Natural Bridges National Monument. The road comes back in just before you reach Mexican Hat. Largest and most majestic of these three red-brown, nature-created spans is Sipapu Bridge—its graceful arch large enough to hold the U. S. Capitol building. From this opening or "hole" the Hopi Indians believe that their ancestors emerged from the lower, dark world into the sunlit one of today. Hundreds of cliff dwelling ruins dating back to about A.D. 1300 dot the area.
